The Best of...

Short Takes off the Wirepost

Woody and Buzz Lightyear made their animated presence known in the Disney hit "Toy Story".....Cal Ripkin Jr. entered the baseball history book with his sports moment of the year when he surpassed Lou Gehrig by playing in 2,130 consecutive professional games....the internet became the hottest computer related field as millions of people took the plunge into cyberspace...."It is my duty to resign. It is the honorable thing to do for this country, for this Senate" - Bob Packwood, in his resignation speech....when a bomb ripped apart an office building in Oklahoma City, it left 169 men, women, and children buried beneath it...OJ Simpson was found not guilty....Bob Dole surfaced as the frontrunner for the Republican party going into the November electionthe Dallas Cowboys proved they were the best in the NFL with a win in the Super Bowl....the Chicago Bulls ran through the NBA in their championship trip.

One of the bigger stories in sports for the 1995-96 year was the Tyson come back. When Tyson was released from prison, his manager Don King set up a fight with Peter McNeeley in September of 1995. The bout only lasted one minute 29 seconds before Tyson came away with his first victory after being outta da joint. Tyson then fought Buster Mathis Jr. in 1996 and won in the third round by a TKO. The only question is who will be "Iron" Mike Tyson's next victim!

The Comeback of the Year

The Beatles resurrect John for a couple of hits.

"The Beatles Anthology" shot to No. 1 on the music charts as the fab four made a comeback with their old songs and a couple of new ones that John Lennon had written. Helping the CD set along, was a made for television documentary featuring old film footage and recent interviews. By the time the last notes of "Can't Buy Me Love" faded, the group had made another fortune.

THE TOP OF the Tube and Movies

TELEVISION

1. Ugh. The OJ Simpson trial. Unfortunately the real life soap opera sucked in the viewers of America.
2. Seinfeld. Jerry, Elaine, Kramer, and George kept a solid rating on the top of the charts.
3. The Beatles Anthology. The rage that swept the world three decades ago came back and did it again.

MOVIES

1. Apollo 13. Thousands of miles from home and fading fast. Tom Hanks was sensational in this spacey adventure.
2. Babe. Okay barnyard talking animals are a little oinky, but this story has a fairy tale aroma to it that makes it more than just a slab of spam.
3. Toy Story. A cloth cowboy and a rocket man make this a movie that will someday be a classic.

The Floods of '96

Telephone poles, trees, and even a few houses fell. Not to mention the countless amount of mud and rock slides. By far the worst place to be during this time was Tillamook. Other than the school having its own temporary swimming pool and the police traveling down the street in boats, the people there did not know what was still in store for them. So they all ran home and went fishing for their cheese logs. So then the rain just kept on fallin' and fallin' and fallin'. With the rain came heavy wind gusts causing the people to run because they didn't know what to do. In the end everyone lived happily ever after. They put up sand bags, worked together, and when you do that everything will just be A.O.K. So the moral is: if you eat cheese logs and like to fish just work together and everything will be alright.

Will it ever stop raining?

Since the time when rainfall records were begun, this Winter and Spring turned in recordbreakers.

We already were the second wettest city in America. Now we might be number 1.

A KISS FROM A ROSE

"It was the best homecoming yet, everyone looked great, and there was alot of spirit," said senior Jolene Smith. The week started off, Monday morning, with students and faculty in awe of the creatively decorated halls. You could feel the spirit rising!

Monday was "Dress Nice Day," and the court presentation. The talent show followed, where a few very talented students got a chance to strut their stuff. That night was the annual Powder Puff Game, once again the class of '97 dominated the field.

Tuesday was "Pajama Day." Everyone relaxed all day in their favorite night gear, as they prepared themselves for Meatball Volleyball in the evening. The senior boys were unstoppable, winning it all.

Class unity day was fun as usual, and the class olympics were a blast! Some students rolled around on the gym floor, and the seniors showed they were strong, by winning the tug-of-war.

On Thursday, you thought you were seeing double, as many students participated in "Twinday."

Friday, game day, the spirit was high at the pep assembly. The cheerleaders gave us a great performance, helping everyone cheer on the football team to a winning game. It must have worked, the team beat Rainier 32-19.

Half-time was entertaining, as the homecoming court was presented and seniors Ben Corderman and Sydney VanDusen were named the 1995 King and Queen.

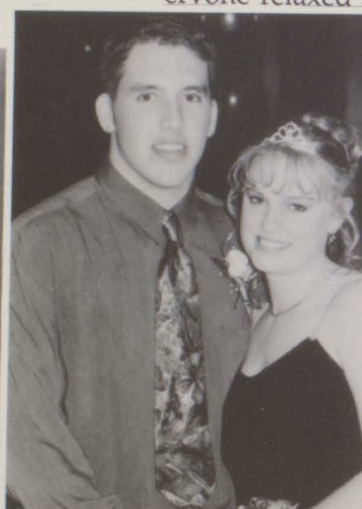

Saturday night was the well awaited dance. The Middle School cafeteria was well decorated with this year's theme, "A Kiss From A Rose." Dressed in casual to black velvet, all that attended lived it up on the dance floor. All in all, Homecoming was a hit. The week, the game, the dance, the spirit, one to remember forever!

THEY'VE GOT LEGS

PLAY THAT FUNKY MUSIC

Bustin' a move to the D.J.'s fast pace tunes, seniors Donnie Lansdown and Erin House get down with all of the other dancers who came to Homecoming.

TWO'S COMPANY

After a night of slow dancing in each other's arms, senior Pat Barnett and junior Jennifer Cyrek are ready to leave the Homecoming dance.

DISCO FEVER

Putting the "Y" in "YMCA", those who attended the Homecoming dance live it up to the Village People. "YMCA" was once again, a dance favorite.

DON'T MESS UP-

David Servino looks on helplessly as his teammate Nathan Connaway pops up the ball during the Meatball game for homecoming week.

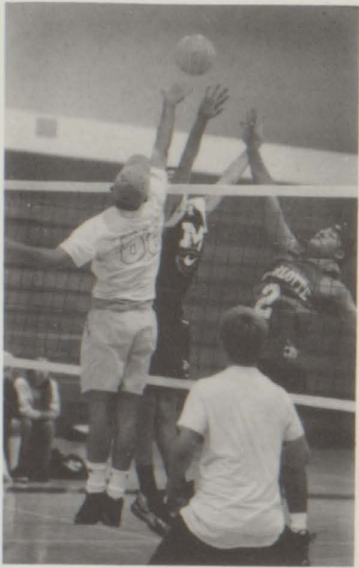

GIMME SOME-

Juniors Preston Van Hook and August Norgaard do a celebration jig during the Meatball game. Unfortunately it would take more than their moves to beat the Seniors.

JEFF FOR THE BLOCK

BUMP-N-GRIND

Ever so carefully, Junior Zach Storey tries to bump the ball into the opponents territory. Careful Zach, too much force will pop the ball.

SPIKE LEE-

During the Meatball match for Homecoming week, Sophomore Zach Covell shows us some karate moves by spiking the ball into freshman territory.

I JUST DON'T GET IT

Freshman Leslie Crane pleads with Coach Holmstedt that they will do much better if they knew what they were doing. Despite the temporary confusion, the team was disqualified anyway for having an extra practice.

GRRR-

A very tough sophomore, Tricia Junes, shows us just how mean she can be when it comes to winning a powderpuff game.

OUTTA MY WAY!

Senior Lyndsey Wirth makes her way down the field picking up some yardage for her team. She enjoyed her one moment of fame during the game.

YOU BETTER WORK!

Silly Seniors Guy Knight and Correy Fox strut their stuff at this years Powder Puff game. Better keep your day jobs guys.

REAL TEAMWORK-

Sophomore Cheri McGinnis tries to score some points as a teammate blocks the opponents try for a "Tackle."

OH SAY CAN YOU SEE!

Singing the national anthem, junior Travis Caulder and Mike Farmer blend their voices together with the other Port City Singers at the court presentation.

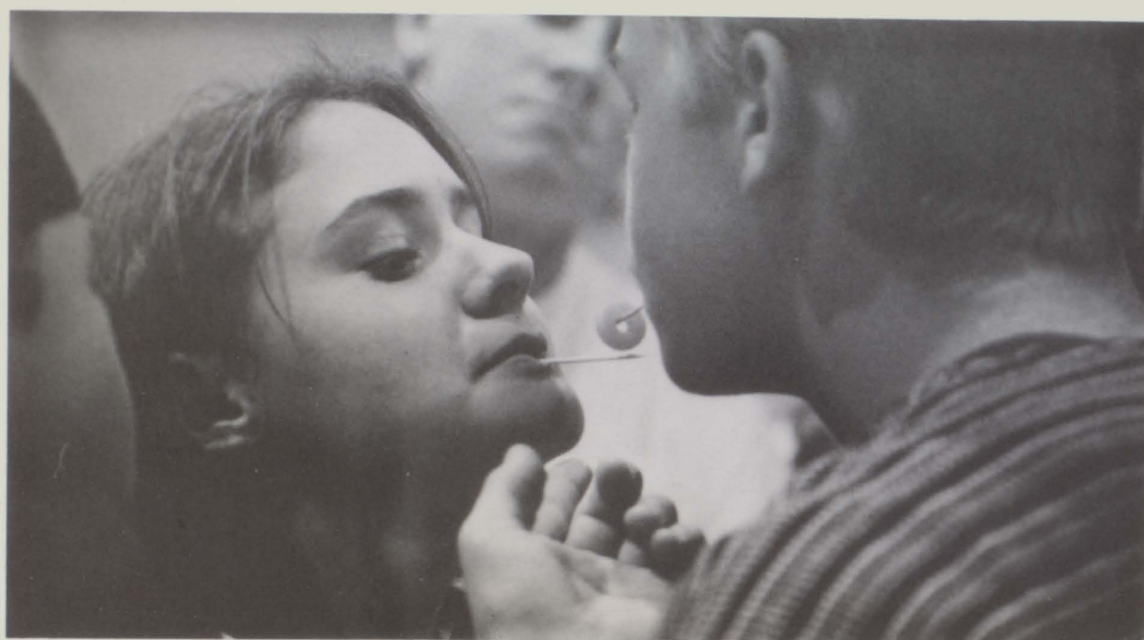

GO SENIORS GO!

Clapping their hands and stomping their feet, the senior class out does everyone else by cheering the loudest.

TOE JAM

Participating in the barefoot-marble relay has senior Andrea Schlieski picking up a marble with her foot and getting it into the can as fast as possible.

WATCHFUL EYE

Watching all of the students laugh and enjoy themselves at the Olympics, Mr. Giere smiles.

I THINK I CAN

Getting "steamrolled" by freshman Tony Garza, Amanda Mills and Chris Holmstedt can do nothing but wait in anticipation.

LEFT, RIGHT, LEFT, RIGHT

Proving that less is better than more, sophomores Eli Ettro, Melissa MacLean, and Dennis McLeod run as fast as they can in the 3-legged race.

SENTIMENTAL SINGER

Performing in the talent show, senior Jason Lewis sings "Do you Dream of me," by Michael W. Smith. The song was a big hit with the females in the crowd.

HEAVE HO!

Giving all they've got, the freshmen class sweat it out against the sophomores but lost just the same.

SADIE HAWKINS

The annual girl chases boy dance was for the first time in many years held at a different location. Instead of the barn at the old fairgrounds site, the hoedown was moved to the new spacious fairgrounds. Despite a few minor glitches like poor sound quality and a rough dance floor, the event was popular amongst the majority of the party animals.

ANHHH YEHHH

Looking like "G's", seniors Aaron Wright, Joey Sumerlin, B.J. Lyngstad, Paul Rodriguez, Eric Tisch, and Ben Corderman, show their masculine side.

FARMERS IN THE MAKING

EIGHT IS GREAT!

FRIENDS FOREVER

THREE'S COMPANY

While enjoying the dance, seniors Nikki Desiderati, Erin Nye, and Adrienne Dowdy-Reynolds get in a quick picture in between songs.

UNTIL DEATH DO US PART

Getting married was the popular thing to do as many couples lined up to say those famous words, "I do," to the one they love.

ALMOST FAMILY

Looking like shiny, happy people, Cheri McGinnis, Cathy Jo Wood, Felicia Angus, Lisa Pender, Monica Records, and Annie Smith gather on the hay just like family.

SMILEY GUYS

Almost material for a Crest commercial, senior Daniel Schneider and freshman Katie Steinback smile big just the same.

a Unique art. Experience

Chris Holmstedt performs "White Christmas" to kick off the evening.

Ushering in the holiday spirit, the creative students in the music and visual arts showcased their talents on December 7.

From the sweet sounds of White Christmas to the snappy Trombones on the Housetop, the bands and choirs kept the spirited crowd entertained for the well performed numbers.

In addition to the music, the cafeteria was smartly arranged with the work of drawing, painting, photography, and pottery students. Throughout the evening parents and friends circulated the "gallery" and provided plenty of good cheer.

BUZZING LIKE A BEE

Playing their trumpets, junior Curtis Mortensen and sophomore Jovan Gates buzz their lips.

SAFE SIX

Playing "Trombones on the Housetop" at the Arts Experience, Tonya Spath, Brian West, Doug Knight, Olin Van Winkle, and Roy Jackson play in perfect harmony. The song was a hit at the concert.

WHITE CHRISTMAS

Getting the audience in the mood, altos Kera Huber, Lyndsay Schlieski, Alysha Misner and Jennifer Martin sing "White Christmas" with serenity.

HOLIDAY SPIRIT

Putting up paintings in the hallway, Mrs. Spaan and her students spread holiday spirit for all to see.

SOLO SINGER

Singing a solo during the song "He Never Failed Me Yet," junior Misha Nokes belts out the notes. Misha had to tryout for the solo before getting to perform it.

ZIP THOSE LIPS!

Before playing their flutes, seniors Heather Shrode and Tammie Harding chit chat in between songs.

CONCERT CHOIR

Walking up the isles, the Concert Choir sings "Still, Still" in a foreign language while joining together on the stage.

Spring Arts Experience

FOREIGN DANCERS

Performing a dance that they learned in their foreign language class, members of the German classes demonstrate the ways of the old country.

ART CRITICS

Browsing through the "art gallery" set up in the cafeteria, parents and other community members admire the student work in painting and photography.

BRETT IN CHARGE

In his final appearance with the AHS band, student conductor Brett Marconeri lead the symphonic band through a lively march.

DREAM TO THE MOON

Entering at the bridge of his own song, freshman Chris Holmstedt blends with Josh Hilber for a crowd pleasing opening for the Arts Experience.

STIMULATING DANCE

Slapping hands while performing a folk dance, freshman Johnny Van Winkle found the dance quite enjoyable.

BLOOD DRIVE

This years blood drive was on April 3 and chaired by Nathan Schauermann and Lindsay Schlieski. It was a great success, bringing in 88 donors, 56 of whom were donating blood for the first time, and only 6 deferrals due to illnesses. Twenty-three people volunteered to help at the drive. The goal of 80 pints of blood was exceeded by 1 pint.

BE PROUD !

HELPING HAND

Doing her job of comforting people, senior Erin Nye holds senior Jason Lewis's hand to help him relax.

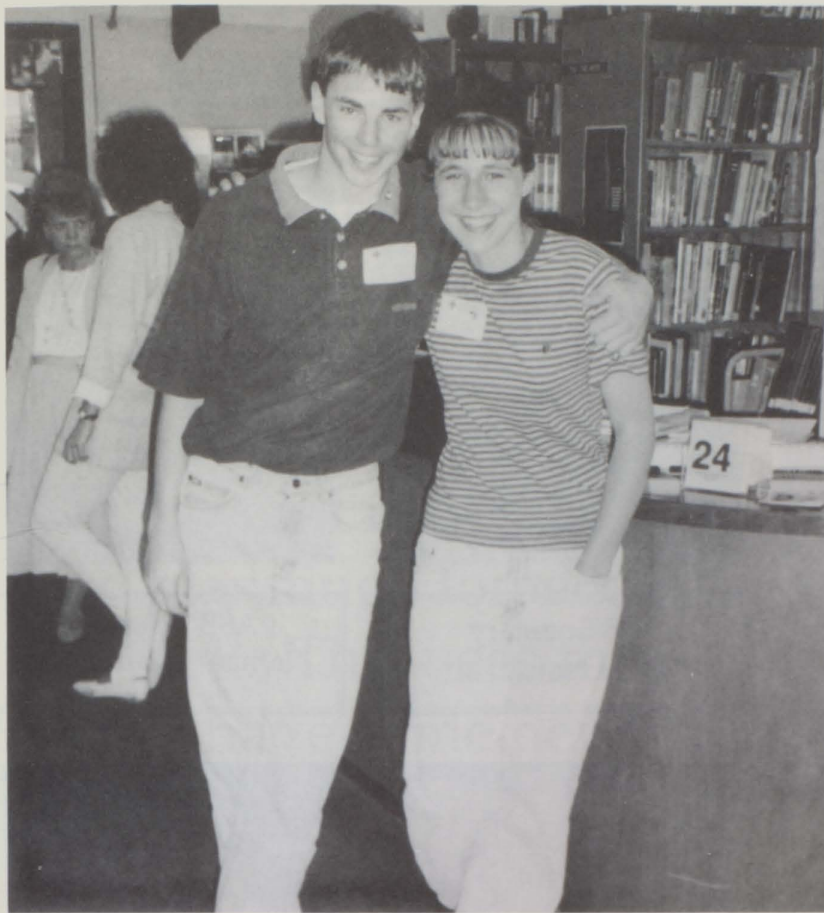

BUSY BLOOD DROPS

LOVE DROPS OR BLOOD DROPS ?

Giving each other a loving hug senior flirts, Sasha DeLong and Ben Cordermen show giving blood is a wonderful thing.

HAPPY HELPERS !

Two of the happiest volunteers, senior Nathan Schauer and sophomore Lindsay Schlieski show their whitest smile.

RELAX . . .

As his blood flows away through a tube senior Correy Fox tries to relax.

BYE BYE BLOOD !

Watching his blood dissappear senior Loren Gustafson takes it like a man.

KNOW YOUR NAME !

Knowing who you are, and where you live helps reduce tension. Senior Becky Fear realizes this as she fills out the blood form.

GOT TIME FOR A SMILE ?

Watching as senior Spencer Johnson loses his blood, senior Nicole Desiderati takes time to smile big for the camera.

This year Student Council started with a camping trip at Fort Stevens in July, where they started planning for the upcoming year. Starting off the year with freshman day and then moving on to planning Homecoming Week. This year they tried to have some new more exciting assemblies and dances.

GIRLS RULE

At the girls versus boys assembly the girls showed a lot of enthusiasm while the boys were un-responsive.

HELPING HAND

Helping decorate for the prom seniors Anna Osterhome and Eric Jacobson are working hard.

HANGIN' OUT

This years camping trip brought student council members closer together and was a lot of fun for everyone.

WAKE UP!

Nobody got much sleep at the student council camping trip and some people, like sophomore Adam Turiglaitto, had a hard time waking up.

Courtyard Romance

In the tradition of excellence for the perfect evening, the Junior/Senior prom was a taste of the high life and a glimpse of living the life of royalty.

Looking good! Making a fashion statement that was total excitement, this years' Junior/Senior prom was hot.

For most couples, the evening of April 20 started with an exquisite dinner at a restaurant that featured a touch of class. For fine dining, the Pier 11, the Wayfarer, the Shoelwater Inn, the Sanctuary, and the Country Club were among the favorites. Vegetable marinara, halibut, prawns in pesto sauce, fettuccini, and top sirloin steak were just a sampling of the types of gourmet dishes that were savored. Being dressed with a touch of class requires that you eat like kings and queens.

Following the dinner, it was time to hit the dance floor. This year the Masonic Temple was the place to be. Embellished with lace, frills, and balloons, the decorations which were arranged by members of the Junior class, added to the magic of the evening.

Keeping the ballroom hopping, the tunes were provided by "Spinovations", a music box band from Clatskanie. Their traveling road show came equipped with a light show that electrified the room from the first song at 8:00 until the last tune at midnight.

One of the highlights of any prom is the introduction of the court and the announcement of the queen. Upon entering the dance, each person cast their vote for their favorite Seniors that would be crowned queen and king. The people's choice went to royalty veterans, Andrea Schlieski and Daniel Schneider. Said Schlieski about the whole affair, "Being queen was fun and I lost a shoe. It was so nice to see everyone dressed up, looking great one last time." For the seniors, it was a night to remember, and for the underclassmen, they can look forward to next year.

MAY I HAVE THIS DANCE?

Slowly swaying to the music, prom goers take the opportunity to grab a dance partner and enjoy the special moment.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT

Having just been crowned Queen and King, seniors Andrea Schlieski and Daniel Schneider take their royalty to the dance floor.

BUDDYING UP

Keeping up the old wives' tale that all females travel in two, sophomore Jill Getchell and her guest head up to the bathroom in a style all their own.

ONE LAST TIME

Striking a pose, best of friends, Marci Byrd, Gina Orlando, Krystal Demos, Lyndsey Wirth and Lisa Gustafson get their picture taken together one more time.

Prom 96 Court

IS MY TIE STRAIGHT?

As they wait in line for pictures, seniors Evelyn Bennett and Jay King make sure everything's perfect while freshman Jasper Devereaux looks on.

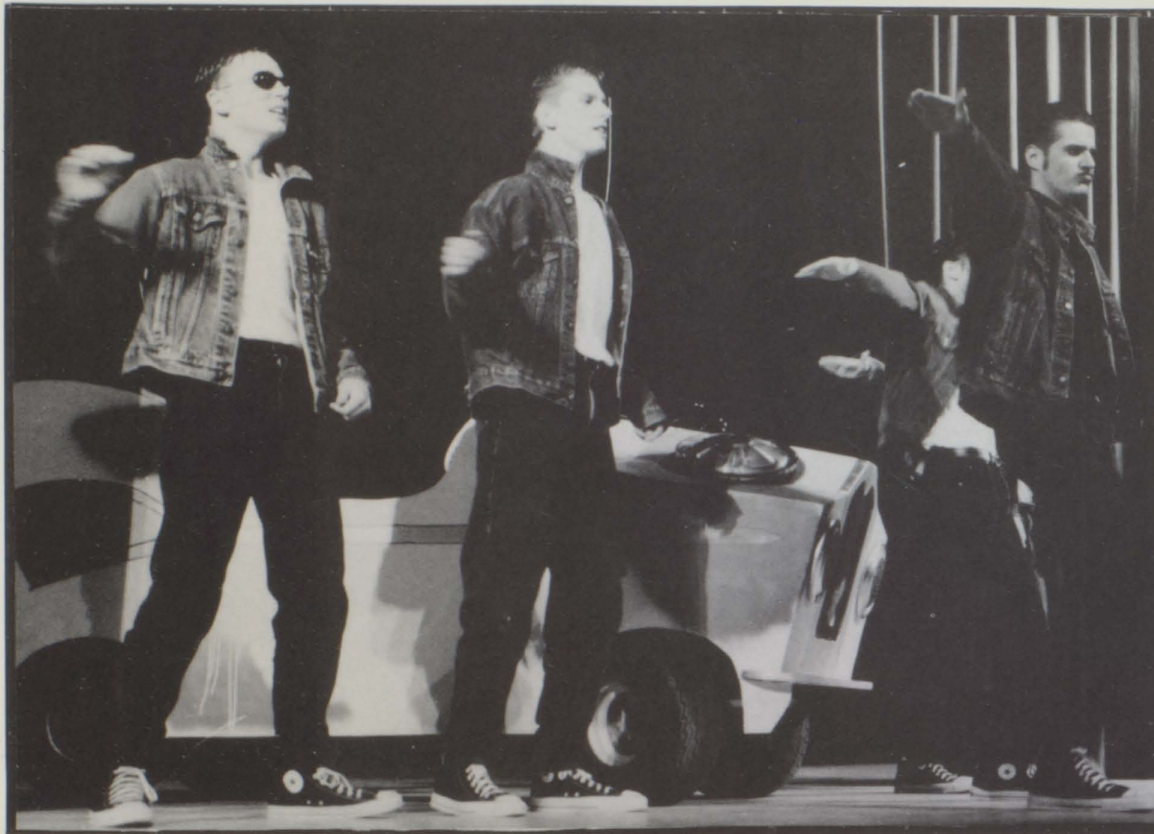

OH...YOU'RE SO CUTE!

Softly giggling at her date's endle complimenting, senior Amber Kindred enjoys her last prom with boyfriend Derek Osterholme.

Grease

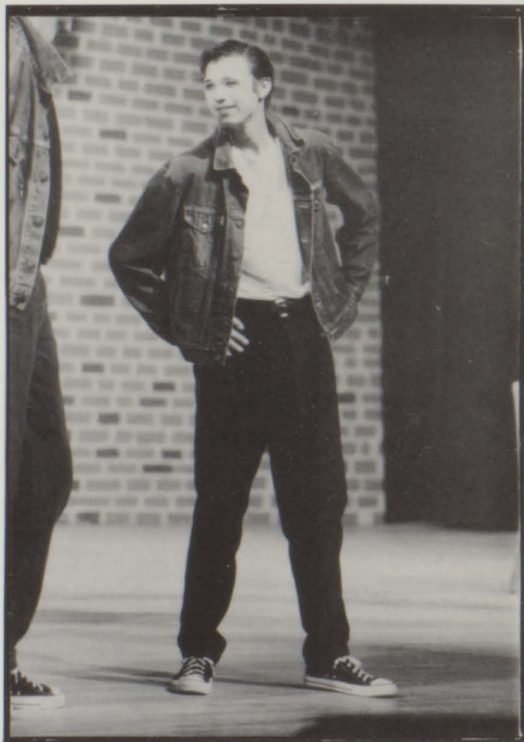

GO GREASED LIGHTNING!

"SHELLY FARBERRIES!"

Faunting off her phoney feature, junior Abi Lane ("Frenchy") tries to convince everyone that she looks "just like Shelly Farberries!"

TOUGH LOVE

After blowing away "Sandy", junior James Bryant ("Danny") tries convincing his buddies that "she don't mean nothin' to me!" "Danny" had to play it cool around his friends to maintain his suave image.

Letting the pajama party started, Frenchy" announces to senior Kathleen Jorgaard ("Jan"), sophomore Shannon Lynch ("Sandy") and freshman Rikki Pitzer ("Marty") that their teen idol, Rickie Nelson might get married!

Describing her brief love affair, "Sandy" sings to "Jan", Rachel Lund ("Patty"), and "Marty" and tells how wonderful it was.

After finding out that everyone in the group has a date but her, "Marty" tries convincing "Danny" to find her a date, but instead he calls out for "Eugene" the class nerd!

After being reminded that he can't eat meat on Friday, "Jan" has some helpful advice for "Roger" by saying, "Well...I can eat anything! That's the nice thing about being a Lutheran!" All "Roger" can do is look at her funny.

Key Club

Key Club stands for Kiwanis Educating Youth. The AHS Key Club was founded 3 years ago. At the start of the year there were only 3 members, but by the end there were 56 official members. This year Key Club performed 9 major service projects which involved; bowling and basketball tournaments with the Special Olympics, carving pumpkins and singing Christmas carols with the patients from Clatsop Care Center, volunteering at the Harlom Crowns basketball game, and sending 7 members from the club to the district convention in Seattle. The 1995-1996 club officers were, President Jay King, Vice-President Amy Scholerman, Secretary Eric Wagner, and Treasurer Heather Swanson.

Hawaiian Dance

Place: The Senior Slab

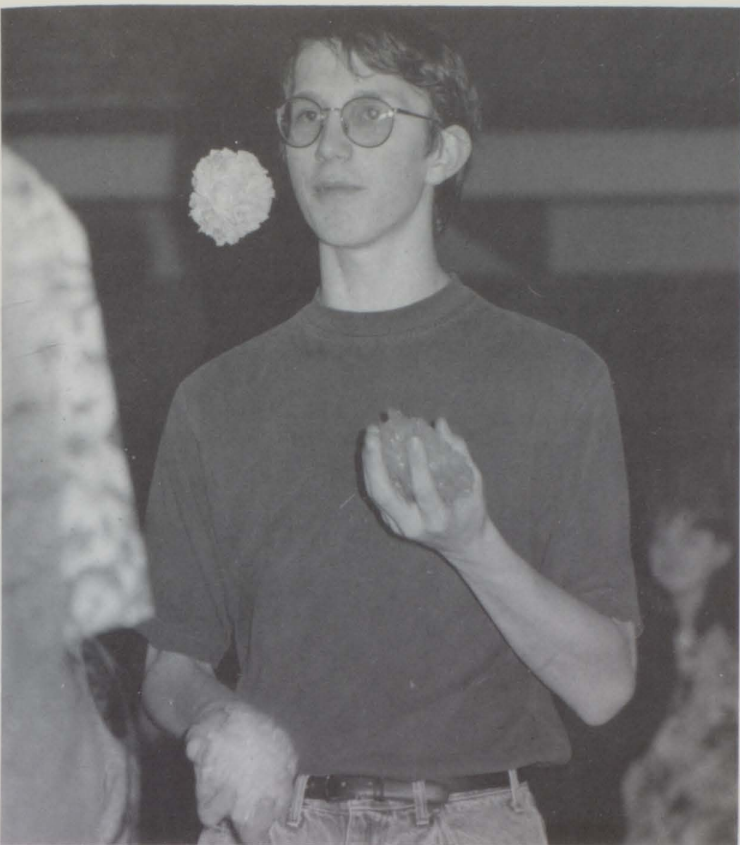

Date: Saturday, June 1, 1996

Time: 8 p.m. to 11 p.m.

Admission: $3.00 & Student Body Card

The annual Hawaiian was the last dance of the year and has its trademark of grass skirts and flowered shirts. The turnout was relatively low, but the students that came managed to enjoy the abnormal sunshine accompanied by the warm weather. Like always, the limbo contest was a part of the festivities and this time there was a tie for the title of champion "Limboer". Freshmen, Desiree Mendez and Audrey Harris proved to go lower than the low. Music was provided by Have Music Will Travel.

Aloha!

HAPPY TWISTER

Hearing the song that Chubby Checker made famous, "Let's Twist Again" senior Kendra Clune enjoys the cool breeze and warm weather.

THE THREE AMIGOS

Dancing to "Ice, Ice, Baby" by Vanilla Ice, seniors Gwyneth Scott and Joanna Nerenberg and junior Jon Krebs enjoy each others company.

I'M GETTING SLEEPY

Trying not to close his weary peepers, junior Justin Elfring reads a magazine article in journalism class while listening to the constant hum of the computer.

PERFECT POSTURE

Sitting up straight comes easy for freshmen Olin Van Winkle, Mike Lang, and Pearl Harris who find that in keyboarding class good posture is a must for typing well.

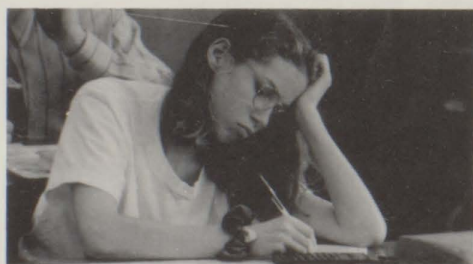

WHO'S TAKING THE PICTURE HERE?

It isn't easy to tell who is taking the picture of who in this photo. Is it freshman Morgan Beasley or the person behind the camera? You be the judge...

WATCH THE FINGERS!

Making sure that the cut is perfect, freshman Phil Barnett carefully watches his wood so that it doesn't slip and cut his fingers.

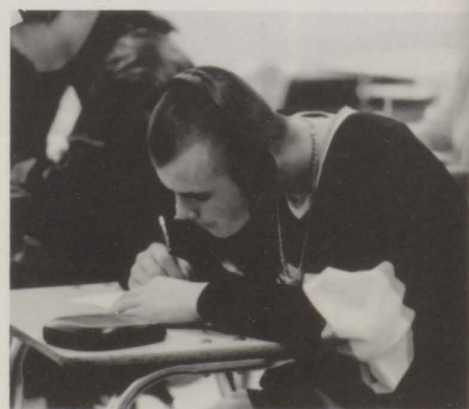

RILLIE KNOWS THE ANSWER

Studying hard in Personal Finance paid off for senior Rillie Mathre. She knows all the answers without even thinking twice!

HELLO, MY NAME IS JULIE

Introducing herself to the camera, sophomore Julie Brownfield gets to know it just a little bit better as she takes a breather from meditating in photo class.

CLASSICAL? PROB'LY NOT

We all know that classical music is supposed to stimulate brain cells so sophomore Donald Ayles must be listening to Beethoven, right?

Peer Tutors Help Make a Difference

Peer tutors allow the opportunity for the students in the Lifeskills program to have great role models, attend classes, and be a part of the student body. Their efforts are greatly appreciated.

"I have enjoyed my time with students. This class has been an extremely positive aspect of my senior project."

Adrienne Reynolds-Dowdy

"This class teaches you cooperation, patience, and most of all it gives you the chance to work with some great people."

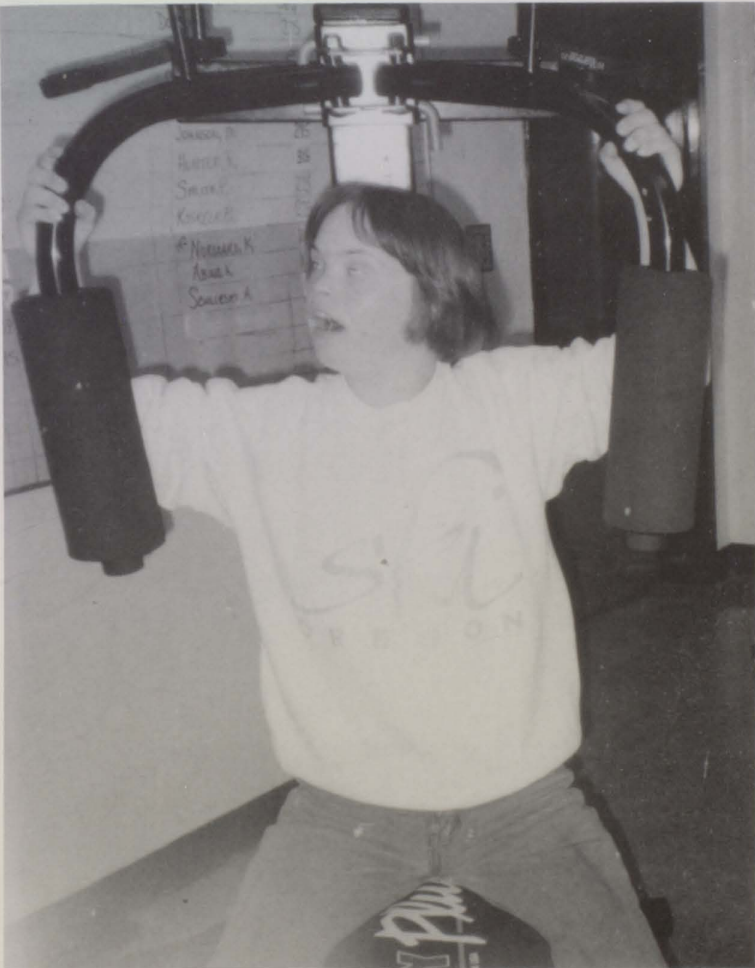

Lisa Cadonau

"I have learned and gained a lot of positive experiences in this class. I think this program is very beneficial to both the tutor and the students."

Jessica Hart

"I have always wanted to be in the lifeskills class and this year I finally had the chance. I think working with everyone has been the greatest."

COLUMN UNVEILING

Astoria's stage band performs for the several hundred people at the unveiling of the column which had been recently repainted. The repainting took about seven months to finish, but the results are beautiful.

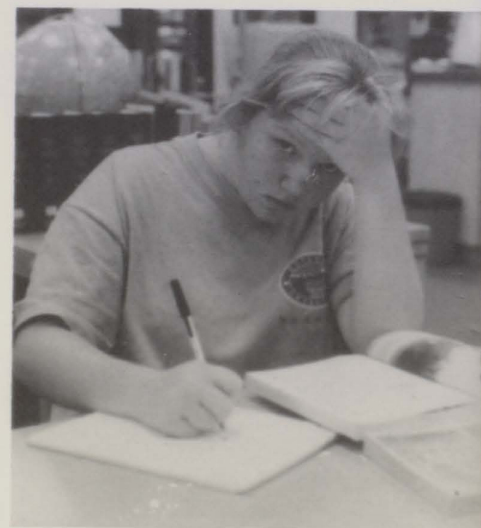

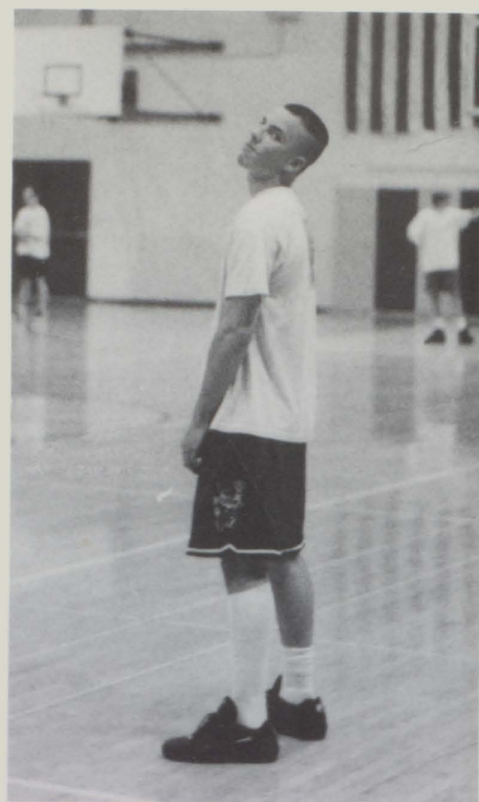

HAMMING IT UP

Showing his best smile for the camera senior Aaron Shaughnessy shows how he feels about getting his picture taken.

"I'M SO EXCITED"

DON'T GIVE UP

Struggling through Global Studies is freshman Sarah Wayrynen. She can't seem to find the answer and is very exasperated. Don't worry, we've all been through it!

FLOATIN' AROUND

The guys look relaxed, but freshman Andy Lindstrom looks like he's ready to cause problems as he climbs on the tube.

TAKE THAT

Acting up just like she usually does, Mrs. Marsch shows us what can happen to high school teachers when they spend too much time in Astoria.

QUIZ QUESTIONS

Questioning the personal finance quiz senior Lisa Pender waits to have all her questions answered.

Astoria Aquatics Center Approved for Construction

Astoria is finally getting a covered pool.

Along with the pool there will be a variety of other things such as; saunas, and weight rooms. These things will form the Astoria Aquatics Center which will be located at the old Clatsop County fairground on Marine Drive. The center is going to take about 2.95 million dollars to build. The AHS students will benefit from this construction directly. The swim team which until now has been traveling to Seaside, will finally have a pool that they can call home. P.E. classes will also be able to use the pool for instruction. Many companies sent in generous donations for the center. The largest donation came from the Astoria Lions club. It is hoped that the center will be operating in a year to a year and a half. The Aquatics center will be one of the largest construction projects ever under taken by the city.

HEAVY WEIGHTS

Showing how well they can work as a team, sophomores Rosalee Rasmussen and Marisa Haglund attempt to lift the impossible ten pounds.

WATCH OUT BELOW

AQUA, AQUA, BO-BAQUA, BANANA-FANA FO-FAQUA, ME, MI, MO, MO-AQUA, AQUA!

Testing electrical wires, juniors Colin Little and Heather Swanson note the results in Aquaculture class. Aquaculture is a yearlong class offered for sophomores, juniors and seniors and is held at the fish hatchery.

AWWW SOOO!

Pinching up his eyelids for junior Chip Dean, junior Nick Ehlers does what is considered a "guy thing". How interesting! Don't try this at home!

WHIZ KID

Studying her English, freshman Pearl Harris tries to get all of her work done, so that she won't have to do it when she gets home.

CLASSIFICATION

Taking his BSCS final, sophomore Alex Fisher tries to distinguish what genus and species he is looking at.

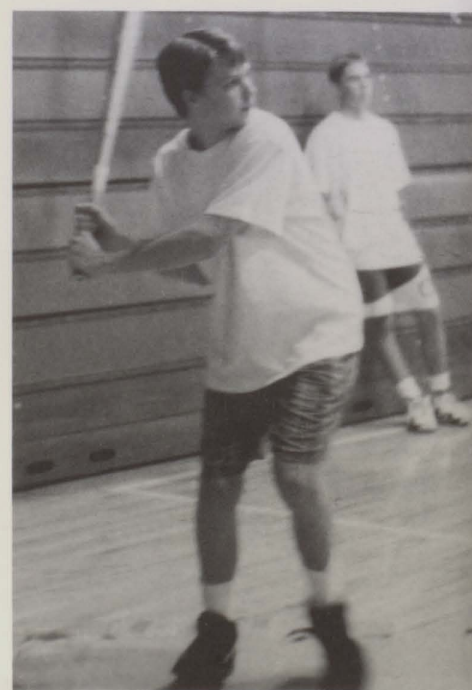

BUSTY RUTTONS

Smiling at the camera is freshman Katie Steinback. Ever wonder what someone named Rusty Buttons would look like?

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT

Working on their parts for the Arts Experience, Travis Caulder, James Bryant, Brett Marconeri, Michael Farmer, and Curtis Mortensen get it together so that at the concert it will be perfect.

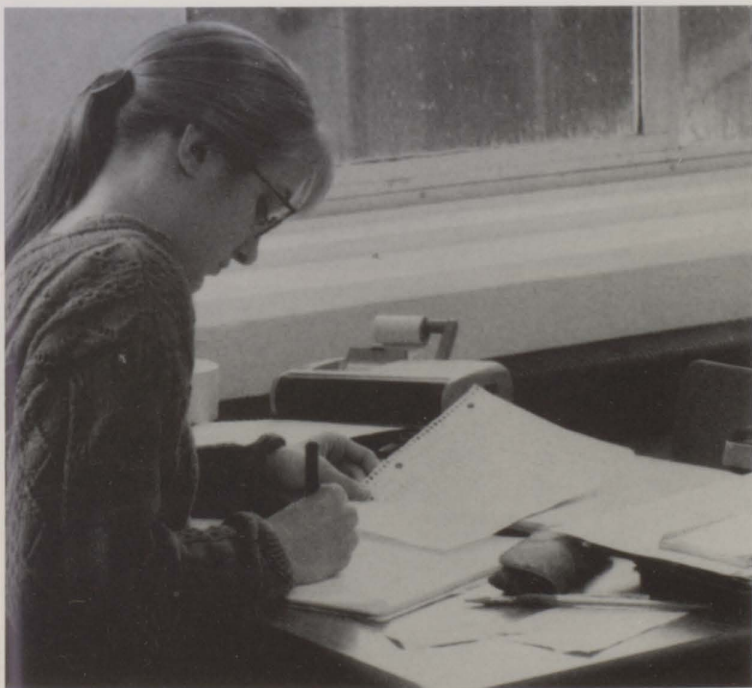

HEAVY HITTER

Keeping his eye on the ball so he won't whiff it again, sophomore Charlie Heiner gets ready to hit the ball in his P.E. class. This time he actually will!

A-1 CLEAN-UP CREW

Tidying up after lunch is freshman Jesse Maddex's job. A part of the Life Skills class is that they clean up the cafeteria; they earn money, free lunch, or even a little of both. By the time that these students are a senior, they will have a job.

JERRY SPRINGER? NOT FOR ME!

Balancing her budget in Personal Finance class, senior Jamee Wood makes sure that the numbers match up. Personal Finance is a semester class for seniors to help them with their monies, so that someday they won't have to sponge off their parents and end up on the Jerry Springer show entitled, "My kid mooches off me and I'm sick of it! You're outta here!"

Hands on Experience

Chances are you've probably seen them in one course or another. I see them every other day in history. Usually they walk in proudly to get the recycling bin. You probably know them as the Life Skills class. I've always wondered what they do in that offset classroom of theirs, other than get recycled paper. So I decided to investigate.

On my way to the classroom, I found four of these students washing tables, so I stopped by and asked a few questions about their job. They are proud to have these jobs. In fact they are paid a little either in free lunches, or money, or even both. These students keep track of their own financing; how to read a pay check, and even how to balance a budget. After I had finished my questions, I proceeded to the classroom.

The person who runs this organization is Jenny Workman. She was proud to tell me what they do. Some of these students come as far as Cannon Beach to attend this class, and most kids think it's worth it. They run the whole recycling corporation in Astoria. They pick up a lot of know-how about job skills. By the time these students are in their senior year, they will already have a job. Did I forget to mention they run their own company that produces gourmet dog bones, and potporri.

Every year they sponsor a dance, and the money from the dance goes to feed and clothe needy families, as well as leaving a large contribution to the food bank annually. If you think that is a lot, that's not even half of what they do. So by the time their seven year program is over, these students are ready to enter the working world as young businesspeople.

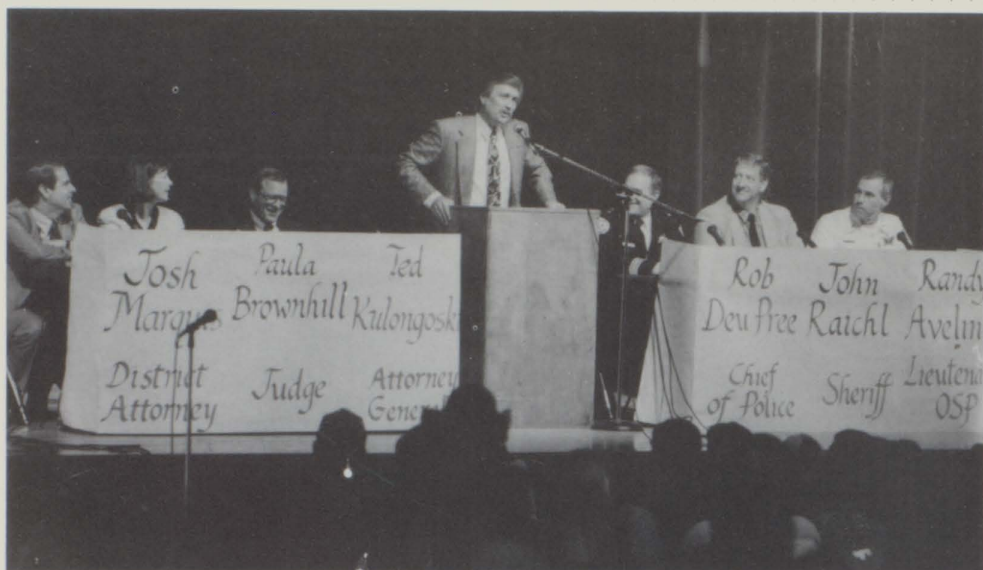

HMMM...NOW WHAT COULD THIS BE?

Analyzing the matter in the jar, sophomore Matt Weathers contemplates on what it is. The final in the class was to identify 25 different specimens and to classify them by the genus and species.

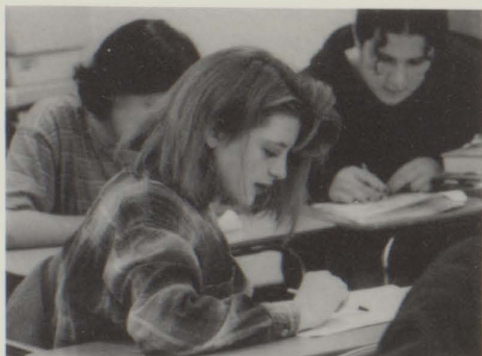

MEASURE 11 DO THE CRIME, PAY THE TIME

A MANDATORY ASSEMBLY STARTED OUT THE SCHOOL YEAR INFORMING STUDENTS, PARENTS, AND TEACHERS ABOUT MEASURE 11. JUVENILES COMMITTING CRIMES ON MEASURE 11'S LIST SUCH AS ROBBERY II, ASSAULT II, AND KIDNAPPING II WILL RECEIVE THE MINIMUM SENTENCE OF FIVE YEARS-TEN MONTHS. THE REST OF THE CRIMES ON THE LIST GIVE SENTENCES UP TO THIRTY YEARS. STUDENTS STATED CONCERNS FOCUSED ON THE FACT THAT JUVENILES ARE OLD ENOUGH TO BE TRIED AS ADULTS BUT ARE NOT OLD ENOUGH TO TAKE PART IN ADULT PRIVILEGES SUCH AS VOTING. SUPPORTERS OF THE MEASURE DECIDED TO PUBLICIZE THE MEASURE SO TEENS WILL BE AWARE OF THESE MUCH STRICTER TERMS ON JUVENILE CRIME.

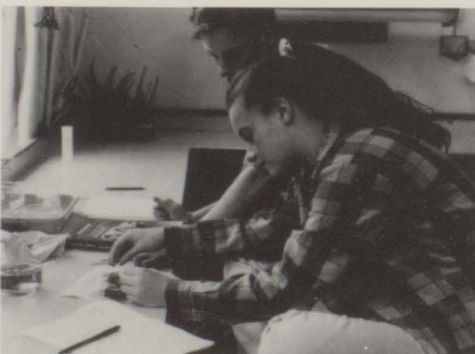

BALANCING ACT

Trying to figure out how to use the scale, sophomores Rosalee Rassmussen and Clint Kindred hope to keep up in Mr. Patterson's chemistry class.

TIME TO WORK

Concentrating on her English packet, Dusty Vowell works hard with the rest of the class on finishing her work before the bell rings. Block scheduling meant more time in class to finish up with what would have been homework.

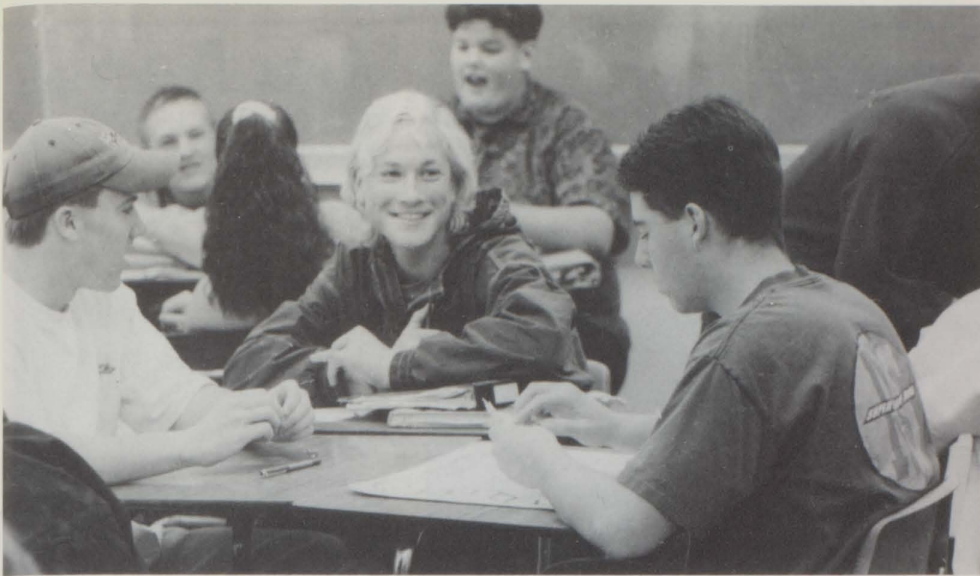

SIMPLE BIOLOGY

Trying to grasp the thought that there is a reason why Mr. Fay's Biology class is required, freshmen Scot Solheim and Amie Zea use teamwork to finish their assignment.

STRICTLY BUSINESS!!

Discussing the topics of the day, teacher Gus Fennerty and counselor David Pollard talk about what's new in school, politics, and medicine to prevent short jokes. The staff was busier than ever this year trying to keep up with students.

NOW SEE HERE...

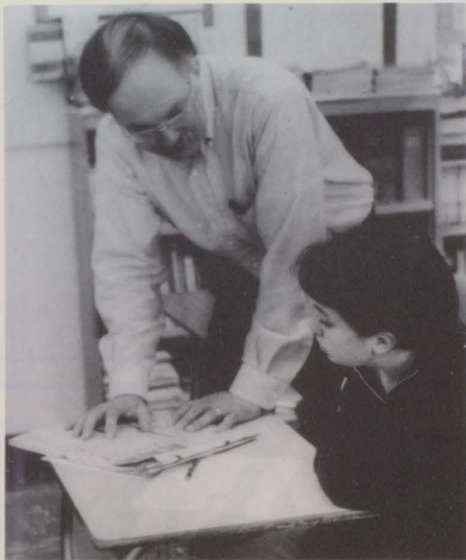

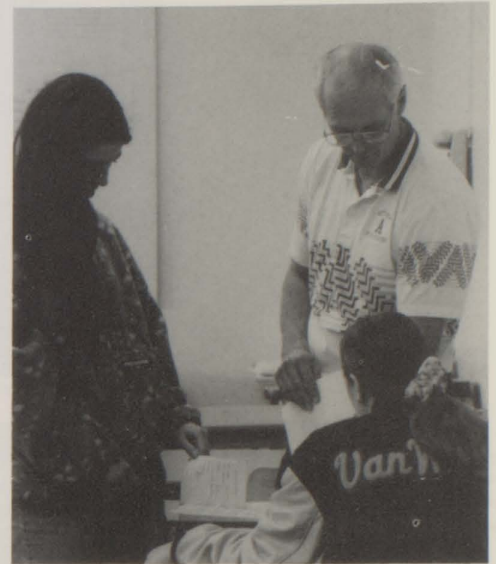

During senior Economics, Mr. Sarin assists Shannon Mullins with her homework on the ups and downs of our country's economy.

ATAQUE

Learning the rules for a game in Spanish class, Rocky Hunter, Simo Ranta, and Jeremy Linder compete to see who will win the most puntos in the game Ataque.

MAKING THE GRADE

Mr. Bruner found some time before class to talk with Joanna Nerenberg and Christy VanWinkle about some of their problems with crunching numbers in personal finance class.

AN HONORED ACHIEVEMENT

On behalf of the student body, acting president Andrea Scheleski accepts the Cowapa league sportsmanship award. Voted on by all the school's in the league, AHS won the award for sixth time out of the last nine years.

MORNING BREAK CONVERSATION

Getting into an intense conversation during the morning break, junior Tim Kindred talks with his friends about the weekend adventures or maybe the equation for jet propulsion and the effects on the ozone layer.

SO INNOCENT

Getting caught red-handed is an easy thing to get out of for senior Rachel Morris. All she has to do is smile and she's off the hook! Oh, how cute!

ALL WORK AND NO PLAY

Deadlines, deadlines, deadlines! Juniors Jenny Laughman and Stephanie Fay feel the crunch and work without blinking to make up for lost time.

TYPERS CRAMP

Pulled away from the mesmerizing computer screen, senior Amy Scholerman glances away from her busy typing to reflect on the lighter side of life.

CUT AND PASTE

Using the Exacto knife to cut out another yearbook picture, junior Chrissy Middleton follows the razor's edge as it glides by the ruler and into the paper.

YEARBOOK GOSSIP

Instead of doing their work, juniors Tina Amela and Randy Snow concentrate on something more important...the color of Tina's Prom dress.

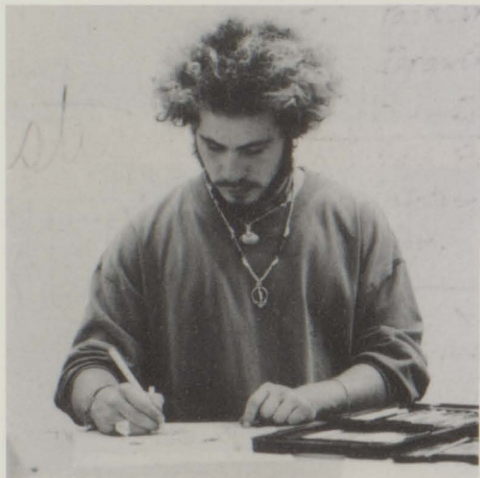

Zephyrus

THE 4 BASIC FOOD GROUPS

Having a camera with it's own timer certainly is handy for seniors Kurt Landwehr and Ben Corderman, so they can take pictures of themselves having fun and eating lots of junk food at Mr.Fay's 55th birthday party.

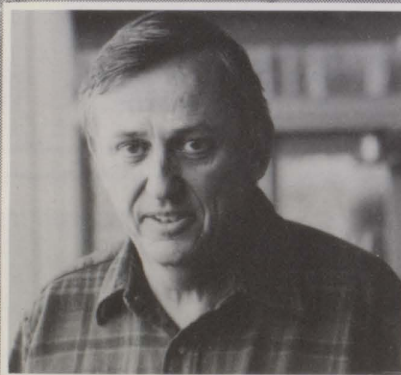

A LITTLE FISHY

Counting fish for Aquaculture class, senior Loren Gustafson watches in amazement as Andrew Kindred takes the fish out of the net to be counted.

FISHY BUSINESS

Salmon Biology is one of the classes that makes our High School unique. Since 1973 Salmon Bio has been giving students an opportunity to learn about the life cycles of all commercial Salmon. To be more specific Chinook, Coho, Sockeye, Chum, Pink, Cutthroat, and Rainbow. Students have also learned how to handle fish and eggs successfully, evaluate and improve conditions of creeks, mark and tag fish, recover and interpret tags, diagnose and treat fish disease and also operate a fish hatchery. Gus Fennerty has been instructing the class, known to most students as Aqua, since 1987. Fennerty said, "I feel Aqua is one of the classes I enjoy teaching most. We are outdoors, and a lot of material is covered in a short period of time. In addition to that, it's good hands on experience."

"It's fun to pick the eggs out and the babies are so cute!"

- Rillie Mathre

"I like it, but the tests are really hard."

- Maria Schauer mann

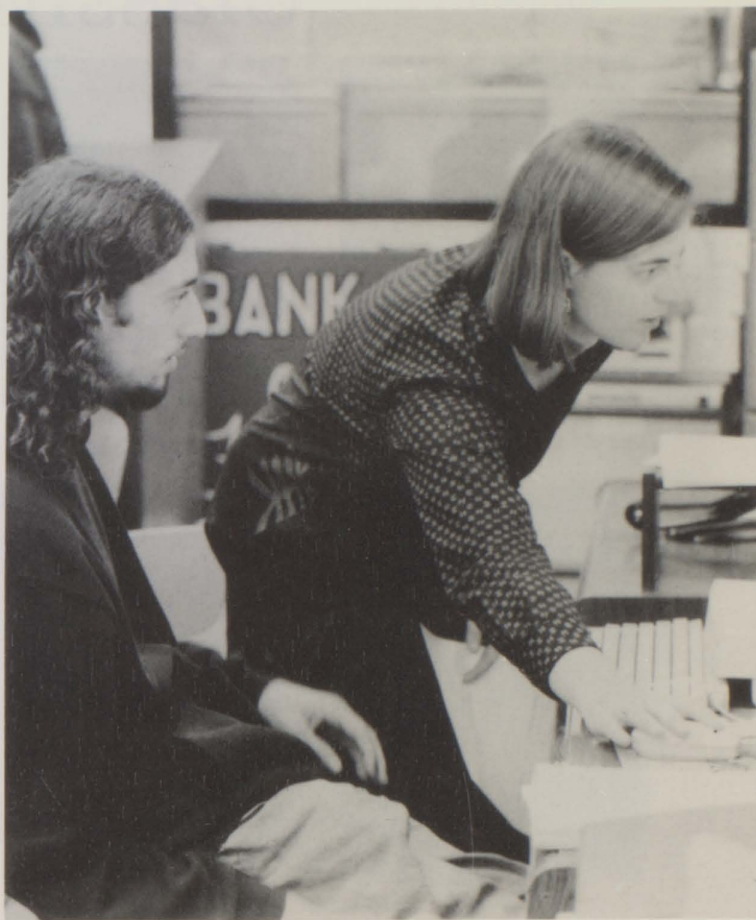

TRUTH OR MYTH?

Working on a mythology assignment for Mrs. Patterson's English class, freshmen Jason Lilley and Joe Miles put their heads together because two heads are better than one.

TEACHER TAKE-OVER

Caught in a crunch, senior Gabe White gets some quick assistance on an article for The Astor Post from journalism teacher Ms. Kraai.

ALL PLAY AND NO WORK

Being in art takes more than slapping paint on a piece of paper. Just ask juniors Matt Getchell and Chris Bilsborrow. They'll tell you it takes a smile too.

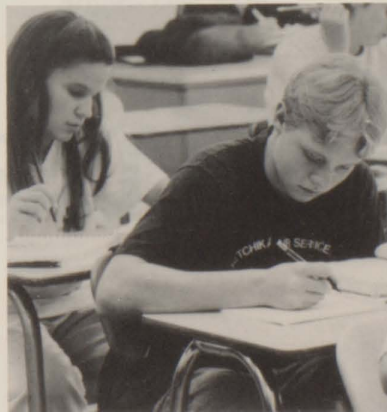

HARD AT WORK

Writing up a final copy for her News/Feature page, junior Melissa Kiepke smiles, after many rough drafts and changes, the article is finally done and ready to go!

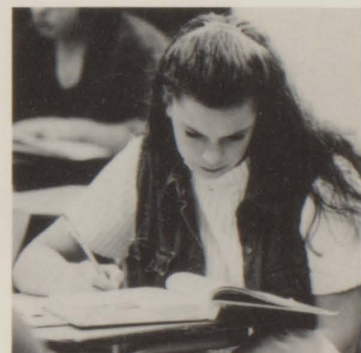

COME IN, PARIS

Listening to a language lab in French 1, freshman Rachel Van Dusen concentrates on learning the new language so that one day she can speak it fluently.

NEWSPAPER BLUES

Working on articles for the first edition of The Astor Post, junior Kelly Cowan and seniors Jenni Osborn and Mika Ranta work hard on meeting their deadlines.

MIND BOGGLED

Reading up on the next problem, junior Monica Records uses her math skills to come up with the correct answer in her math review class.

ANGLES OF A SHAPE

Working on one of Mr. Landwher's many Geometry assignments, sophomore Kristina Mahnke and freshman Erick Neussl pencil in their answers.

Historian and teacher, Mr. Sarin says farewell

After more than 30 years of teaching kids history, current events, and the structure of government, Mr. Sarin resigned his teaching position. Surviving seven principals and five superintendents, he stepped down with high praises for the faculty and their concern for students.

"In the past 30 years there have been a lot of changes in the schools," commented Mr. Sarin. "The techniques and methods of technology have changed a lot of that. I have also seen a lower percentage of students committed to education."

Among his favorite memories of teaching here came during the 1970's. "Probably the most memorable time for me as a teacher came during the time Richard Nixon resigned from the presidency." The times were exciting and the students were very active in what they believed in. It was the best of times.

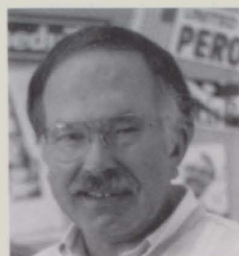

The majority of the thousands of students that have passed through Mr. Sarin's attendance book will remember him as a patient and caring teacher. "This staff will really miss him," said Mr. Holmstedt, "he was a great man to work with."

Michael Foster Takes Stock in Retirement

In September 1963, Mr. Foster began working at Astoria High. Three years later he went to Afghanistan, but returned four years later. From there on he taught until today, now he has decided to retire. He believes that a change of pace will be nice, but he will still work on the scholarship funds. He said many things have changed during his career like more working students and focuses and views about a students place in the working class. He has enjoyed teaching and the people he worked with, and will be missed by many. Over the years memories such as working with the foreign exchange and the great students and friends will always be remembered.

HEATING UP

Observing the bright yellow solution in their beaker during Chemistry, Amy Henrikson and Jason Chow are learning how the Law of Conservation of Mass applies to this lab.

MAGIC MOVES

While playing the game of Magic, Dan Caulder and Roy Jackson put their heads together to make the best move possible. Many students have taken up Magic as a hobby during lunch.

PHOTO RUSH

Busily working to finish up assignments, Lindsay Schilieski, Chris Wait and Audrey Harris speed to get them done on time as Sia Phillipakis sits back and takes a break.

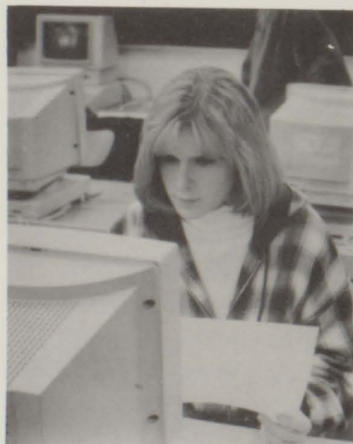

YO TEACH!

Getting the attention of Mr. Dominey, freshman Ben Runaas needs to clear up what stress is and what the signs of it are.

MESMORIZED

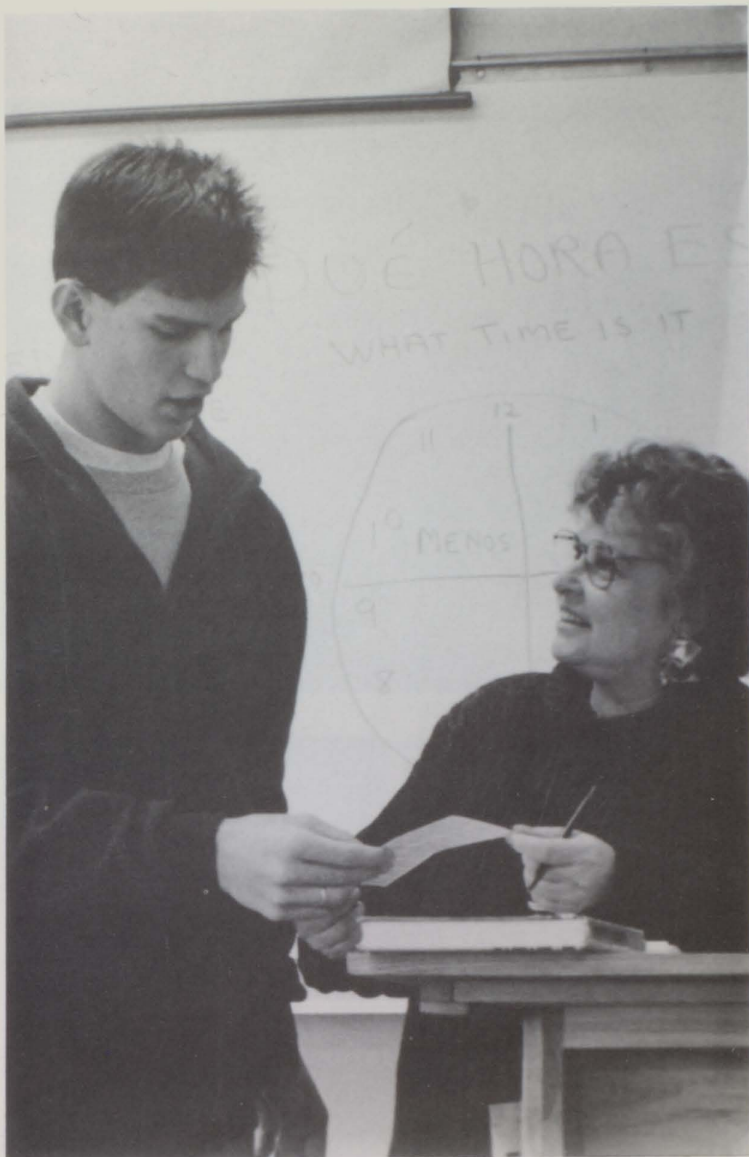

Staring at the computer, Heather Shrode works through a data base problem. The computer applications class used Microsoft Works to get through various assignments.

MICROSCOPIC EYES

Peering into the microscope during a biology lab, sophomore John Haynes identifies the many types of protozoa found in pond water.

STICKER BUSINESS

Choosing a sticker for his Spanish folder, Austin Houghtaling is excited to add it to his collection. The students receive stickers for extra credit on their birthday and for doing well on tests.

ROLE MODEL

Giving an anatomy lesson during advanced drawing, senior Shane Smith contemplates on what type of utensils he will use to sketch his dream girl.

DECIMAL HAVEN

After one to many decimals during pre-algebra, freshman Marcie Attig can't help but yawn while working on an assignment.

MAKING THE CONNECTION

SPENDING TIME ON THE PHONE WAS ONE WAY TO NOT ONLY PASS SOME FREE TIME BUT IT WAS SOMETHING TO DO FOR FUN AND TO KEEP UP WITH WHAT'S HAPPENING.

HOW LONG DO YOU SPEND ON THE PHONE?

HALLOWEEN FUN FAVORITES

Out of 46 people interviewed, 52% said that they either stayed home and handed out candy or watched movies. Here are some of the unique answers to the question:

WHAT DID YOU DO ON HALLOWEEN?

"Not tellin'!" - Mr. Pollard

"Purposely left the light to our front porch off even though I had Halloween candy to give away." - Melissa Kiepke, junior

"I went around with Joanna[Nerenberg], Misty[Mallonee] and Austin and Lindsey Houghtaling and we went around to people's houses and gave them candy instead of having them give us candy." - Amy Henrickson, junior

"Went on a mission." - Nate Doney, senior

"I dressed up and went around the school in my costume." - Mr. Goin

"I scared little kids." - Dale Anderson, senior

"We went trick-or-treating as valley girls." - Liz Clark, Jennifer Stangland, Valaree Solheim, Erin Niemi, freshmen

CAT IN THE HAT
Wearing her pajamas for Homecoming week, senior Trudy Van Dusen works hard on finishing up her worksheets in sociology.

FILLING IN THE DETAILS

THE FINAL CHAPTER

June 8, 1996. For the 120 seniors that had made it to the big dance, this was the farewell that they had been looking forward to for 12 years.

Like the thousands of other high school seniors that were receiving their diplomas on this day, the AHS graduates were eager for the show to begin. Smiles came easy and hugs and high fives were in order. This was one of the biggest days of their lives, and they were going to enjoy every minute.

When the band finished up with the 2001 Space Odyssey theme song and went into Pomp and Circumstance, their time had arrived. Two by two they marched down the aisle lined on the side with parents and friends that had come to witness this big event.

As the last seniors took their seats, the applause from the crowd was loud and joyous. They had made it.

The hour and a half ceremony flew by despite the sweltering heat in the gymnasium. Speeches by Alicia Boone, Jay King, and Trudy Van Dusen were insightful and humorous. A piano solo by Eric Wagner and an interesting trio of songs from "The politically incorrect", and a slide show by Ben Corderman was entertaining and highly receptive.

After all the festivities, it was time to hand out the diplomas. For the 120 graduates, it was the moment that they had been waiting for. A piece of paper that certified that they had jumped through all the right hoops and learned the right stuff. It was only a piece of paper but it was signified a major accomplishment.

Following the ceremony, there were a lot of family parties to attend before the official celebration at Tongue Point. All night long the seniors ate, played, won some great prizes, and enjoyed each other's company for the last time. When the party ended, it was the close of a big chapter in the lives of each of these seniors.

PROGRAM NOTES

Checking out the details in the program, Terra Petersen and BJ Lyngstad look over the list of events before the ceremony.

GROOVY KIND OF LOVE

Shedding his cap and gown for a trio of songs, Jason Lewis entertained the class with "Groovy Kind of Love."

GET THE DIPLOMA AND RUN

Walking proudly across the stage to receive her diploma, Andrea Schlieski looks forward to grasping her official certification.

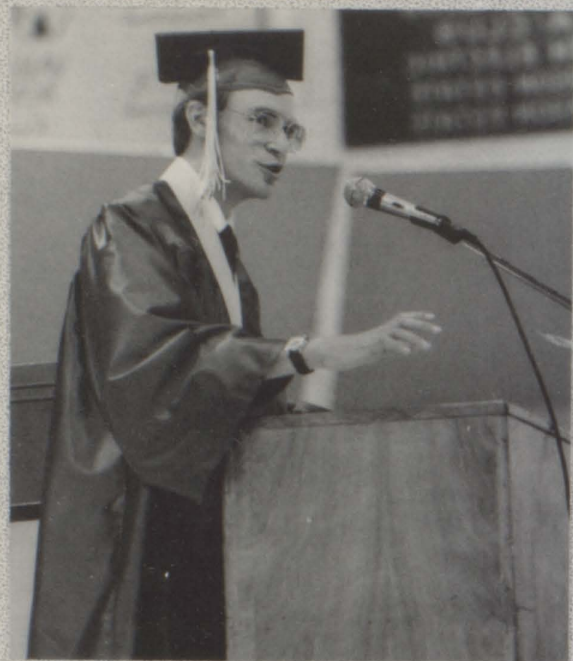

LOOKING FOR A FRIEND

Caught in a moment of reflection, Lorraine Yanagawa looks through the filled gymnasium for a familiar face.

NOW THAT'S FUNNY

The class shares a laugh during Trudy Van Dusen's speech and the reflection about "BJ and Terra, Terra and BJ".

"The obstacles were difficult and at times they seemed overwhelming and at some point or another we all felt like quitting. But we didn't. And now, finally, we receive the rewards of the effort we began so long ago." - Jay King

KODAK MOMENT

Before assembling to walk into the ceremony, there was time for getting dressed and taking pictures to remember friends and family.

Relaxing before the awards assembly, Daniel Schneider chats with a classmate. Individuals as a group received more than $40,000 in scholarships and grants.

LOST HIS MARBLE

Handing Mr. Giere a marble as he left the stage, Joey Sumerlin helped fill the principals pockets with marbles. Most of the class followed suit and presented marbles.

CONGRATULATIONS

The faculty was the first to congratulate the seniors after they left the ceremony. There were tears and smiles as one by one they shook hands with each member of the class.

Let the Party Begin!

Let the good times roll! Following every graduation is a PARTY! And this year was no exception.

Starting at 9:00pm, the first bus rolled out of the high school parking lot headed for Tongue Point recreation center. Filled with excited and fun lovers, the graduates were given many options for entertainment once they reached their destination.

From poker, pool, roller skating, and temporary tatoos, to ping pong, their was money to be won and prizes to be given away to every graduate.

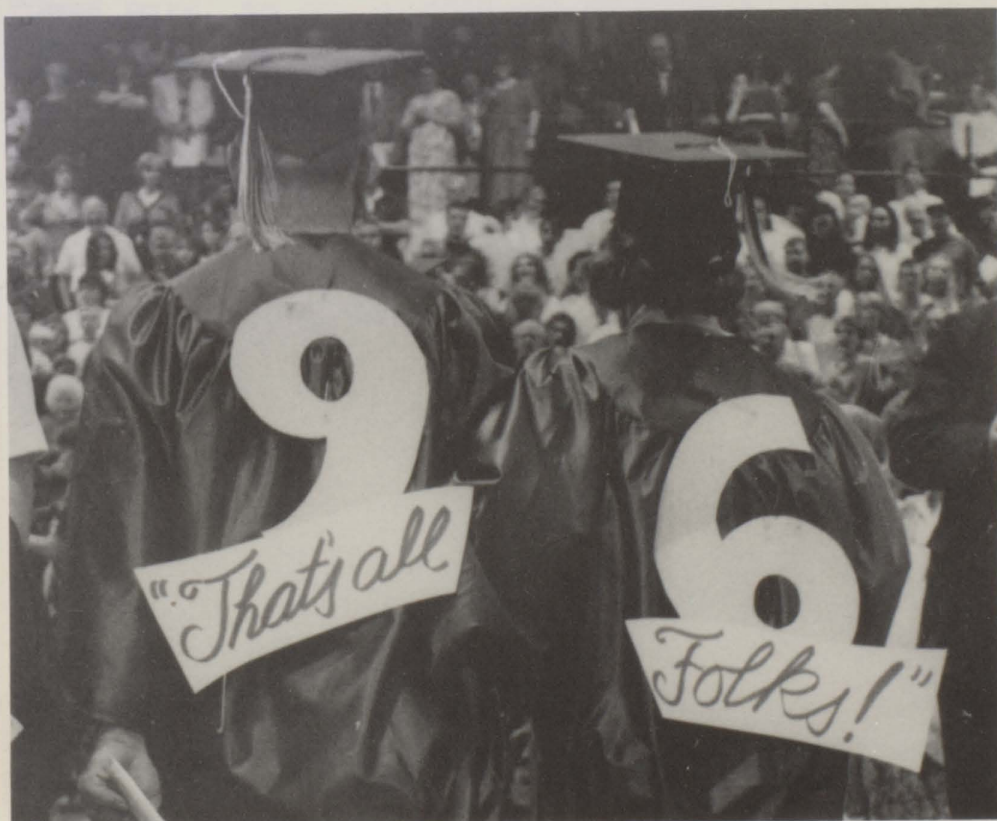

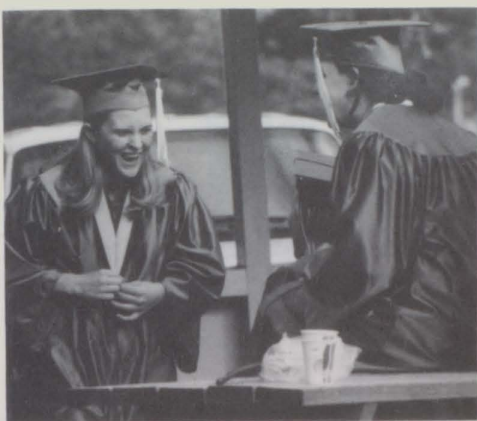

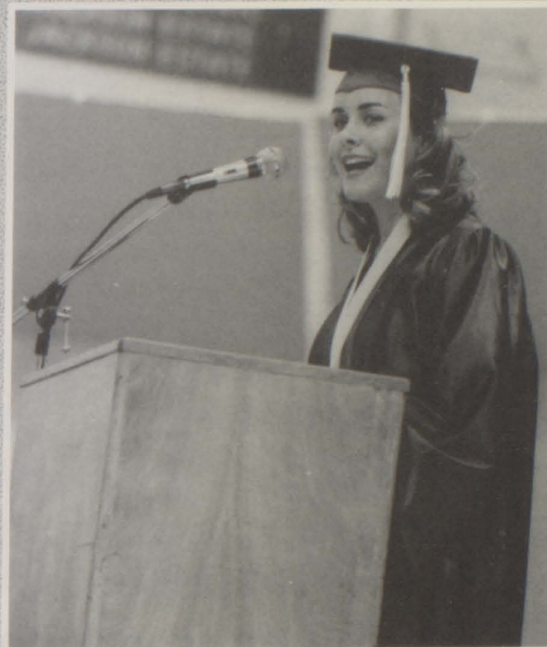

The great prizes that were donated by area businesses and through the efforts of the Senior Celebration committee members, made for a perfect keepsake for the event.

"The funniest part of the evening", according to Alicia Boone, "was when Trudy's telephone was 'accidentally dropped' out the window of the bus on the way home."

S.A.V.E. CLUB

Students Against Violence Everywhere is a new club this year founded by senior Jessica Hart and Women's Resource Center, Outreach Coordinator, Jill River. The goal of the S.A.V.E. club is to raise awareness about the many different types of violence apparent in the school and community. The club wanted to try and help people accept their differences and communicate in a non-violent way. One of the long-term goals of Students Against Violence Everywhere was to create a Natural Helpers program which would involve peers helping others work out their problems. The club was formed for any interested students or staff.

One of the many clubs at Astoria High School is the Service Club. The purpose of the club is to do projects benefiting the students and faculty as well as the public. Its dedicated members have done helpful projects such as donating their time and money for The Fish-A-Thon that Josh Hemeon did for his senior project. Their last exciting project for the Summer of 1996 will be to clean out the football stands, bathrooms and concession stand. Anything that needs paint will get it including the "Home of the Fighting Fisherman" slogan and the mascot "Stomper". As for the valuable points of being a member, Jennifer Cyrek sums it up "Young kids entering the club gain a good sense of responsibility, having to deal with raising and spending money." Like any club the more members the merrier. Anyone is encouraged to join.

Europe Will Never be the Same

Eleven AHS students spend two weeks touring Germany, France, and England

Every year, Astoria and Waldorf, Germany have a student exchange. The two towns became sister cities in 1963, and the connection has grown stronger every year. On March 16th, Ann Campbell, Sasha DeLong, Krystal Demos, Saralyn Durheim, Erin House, Rachel Jensen, Kent Neal, Jenni Osborn, Terra Peterson, Kyle Smith, and Josh Stromquist, accompanied by the legend known as Mr. Foster, and Stacey Meyer, Sharon Walker, and Trudy Einke, departed from Portland Airport headed for Europe.

The first stop was Paris. The minute they were on French soil the tour began with a visit to the Arc de Triomphe, the Eiffel Tower, Notre Dame, the Louvre, and many other sights and museums throughout the week. Already exhausted, among other things, the group departed by train heading for Germany.

Although somewhat nervous about meeting their host families, all went well. Whether swimming or ice skating, fishing or shooting pool, (or singing the national anthem) everyone had a great time. Astoria students were escorted by their host students to nearby Heidelberg, German classrooms, and also were able to see Heidelberg Castle.

Upon arriving at Heathrow Airport in London, the group was tired enough to take a day off. Once they got up and about again, they went to the theatre twice, seeing "Miss Saigon" and "Don't Dress for Dinner," the Tower of London, and some interesting shops on the way.

All in all it was a wonderful trip, which made for great friendships and memories, good laughs, and an incredibly educational experience. No one developed 'crazy cow disease' or was left behind, at least not for good, and everyone looks forward to going back.

OHMIGOSH! OHMIGOSH!

Learning how to hand-feed the birds, senior Erin House takes hints from a gentleman who took time to show her. Erin is quite shocked at how tame the birds are near the Louvre in Paris.

SOUR GRAPES

After living up an eventful day in Paris, senior Sasha DeLong and Mr. Foster take time to share their overflowing joy with all.

DON'T EAT THE BEEF!

Chatting with one of the few beef eaters left in England, Ann Campbell, Josh Stromquist, Rachel Jensen, Kent Neal and Saralyn Durheim get a personal introduction to the Tower of London.

The National Honor Society is a community service club set up to recognize students that have excelled in studies. To become a member of the National Honor Society an accumulative grade point average of 3.5 or higher is required. Then an application must be submitted at the end of the junior year and accepted by the National Honor Society committee. After being accepted into the society there is an official induction dinner sponsored by the Mason's from the Masonic Temple. At the dinner the past years officers present the certificates to the new inductees and present traditional ceremonial speeches. The members of the National Honor Society graduate with honors and have an official emblem of the National Honor Society placed on their diplomas.

The National Honor Society club officers for 1995-1996 were; Co-President's Amber Kindred and Kathleen Norgaard, Vice-President Trudy Van Dusen, Secretary Andrea Schlieski, and Treasurer Joanna Nerenberg.

The Future Business Leaders of America members were involved in many activities within the community during the year, such as the Lamont's fund-raiser, Chamber of Commerce Luncheon, a trip to an accounting firm in Portland, and also helped out with the senior presentations. The FBLA members meet monthly to discuss upcoming events and present the Business Person of the Month award. A community member was invited to each meeting to present this award. Trudy Van Dusen and Krystal Demos were voted as co-business members of the year. Everyone is encouraged to compete in the District Skills Competition and those who do well advance to the state competition. In April of 1996, Joey Sumerlin, Guy Knight, Krystal Demos and Rosalee Rasmussen went on to state at the Red Lion Inn in Portland. The 1995-1996 officers were; President Trudy Van Dusen, Vice-President Joey Sumerlin, Secretary Krystal Demos, Treasurer Marjo Larson, and Public Relations Jessica Hart.

SEASON RECORD
4-5

With the season teetering on a win at Clatskanie, and all playoff hopes lingering on the final quarter, a gutsy effort almost payed off big time. "These guys gave it everything they had," commented coach Andrea. "You have to give this team credit for never giving up."

That was the story of the season. Despite some weak second half performances that turned things sour, there were some great individual efforts that kept the Fishermen in most every game. In the Clatskanie game, just like the games against Seaside and Rainier, the seniors set the example and rose to the occasion pulling out all the stops. Week after week, the desire to improve their entire game kept the team hanging on for a possible playoff spot.

Setting the pace for the team that was looking for its third consecutive playoff birth, senior defensive back Guy Knight, senior kicker Blue Steinback, linebacker Kurt Landwehr, and wide receiver August Norgaard were named to the all-league team. For his tough play as Quarterback Blue also earned a spot on the leagues second team along with offensive guard Jacob Ormes, and tight end Derek Osterholme. Astoria players making honorable mention were senior offensive center, Scott Youngren, and junior offensive lineman William Middleton.

Once again, the highlight of the year was a great overtime win over league rival Seaside by a score of 21-14. Tied at 14 at the end of the fourth quarter, the Fishermen scored first in the Kansas plan then shot down the Seagulls in four straight plays to claim the bragging rights for another season.

FLY BOY

Taking it in, junior Jeff Hawkins escorts the ball to the end zone on a pass from quarterback, Blue Steinback. Astoria started out thier league play with a big win over Scappoose. 38-8

SURPRISE!!!

Footing it to the end zone, a surprised defensive noseguard Josh Blomquist scores after catching an attempted pass by Scappoose.

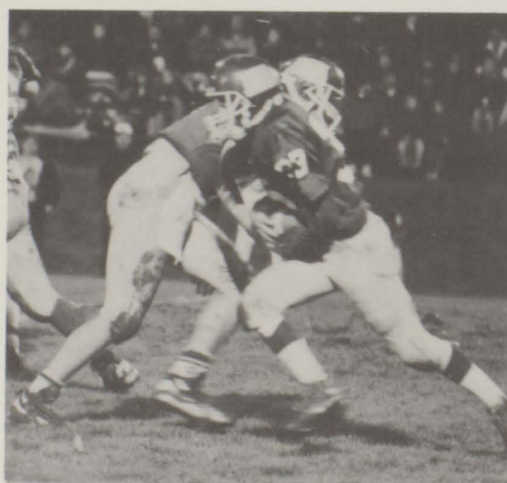

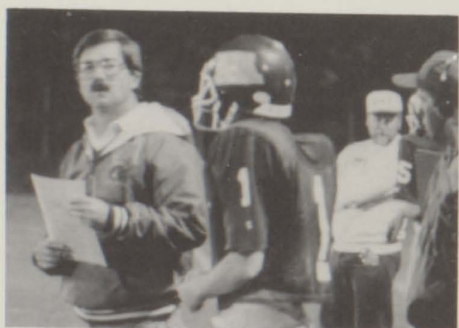

FOUR AND ONE

With a minute and twenty-three seconds left in the half, the Fishermen scored, but missed the field goal. The Fishermen came out in the second half and scored with a conversion to tie with Seaside at the end of the game.

STEPPING OUT

Hanging on to the ball, senior Guy Knight stays on his feet as long as possible after a surprise hit from behind by a Tillamook player.

HAND OFF

Taking the ball from senior Blue Steinback, junior Jeff Hawkins puts it in high gear in order to get past the Scappoose defense.

WET WARRIORS

Cheering for the Fisherman defense, senior Scott Youngren, and junior, Will Middleton keep a close watch as the Fisherman stop another Seagull drive.

FINGERTIP SNAG

Reaching for the ball senior, Derek Osterholme makes the catch. The Fishermen gave it their best effort, but were still put down by the Tigers.

RUNNING FOR DAYLIGHT

Following his blockers around the right end, senior Guy Knight finds a hole in the Rainier defense. In the muddy contest, the team ran over the Columbians by a score of 32-19.

LOOKING FOR THE SNAP OF THE BALL

Ready to fire off the ball, the defensive line ran into a solid front in the 37-13 loss against Tillamook. The defense was led by tough linebacker Kurt Landwehr and swift defensive back Guy Knight.

NOTHING TO LOSE...

That was the Lady Fishermen's motto this season. With only one starter back from last year, the young Fishermen had to overcome their inexperience quickly.

They started off the season with a 4-3 record at the League Jamboree, and went on to take second place at the Gladstone Tournament. They didn't stop there, they ended up taking third place in each of the next three tournaments.

One highlight of the season was when the girls beat their rivals, the Seaside Seagulls, in an emotional match. The victory kept the Fishermen's playoff hopes alive, keeping them tied for fourth with St. Helens. The battle between the Gulls and the Fishermen featured determined defense and tough serving from both teams. But in the end, it was the Fishermen who came out on top, 15-11, 11-15, 16-14.

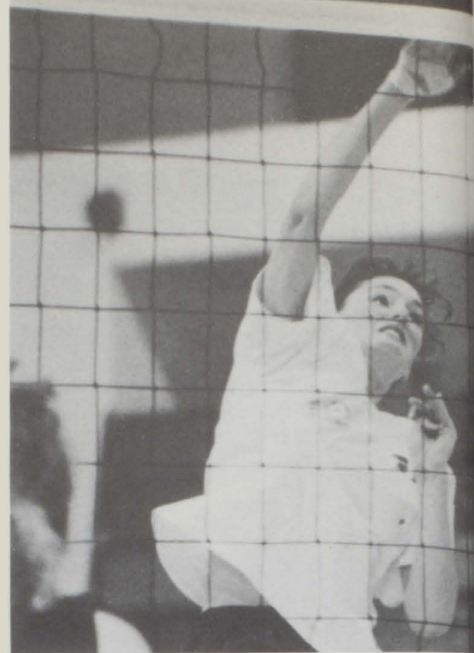

The win came as a result of the team's effort. As senior Gina Orlando recalled, "I just told them (the team) to do it for our seniors. And they knew what it meant to us and they played so hard."

Another highlight of the season came in the last scheduled game of the season. The Lady Fishermen upset the #7 ranked Rainier Columbians in a three game all-out war, 15-12, 8-15, 18-16. That win also clinched a spot in the playoffs for the Fishermen. Throughout the game Coach Tom Wilson continually reminded the girls of their "Nothing to Lose" motto. "I could see they were tense, but the focus was there, the fire was in their eyes," Wilson said. The team was led by seniors Gina Orlando, who went 39 for 46 on attacks with 16 kills, and Andrea Schlieski, who was 23 for 24 on attacks with six kills.

Making it to the playoffs and ending up fourth in league was a great accomplishment for the girls. All of their hard work throughout the season paid off. But in the end the Fishermen lost to Seaside at the playoffs in Rainier. Although they lost at the playoffs, the season was far from a disappointment. In fact, looking back it was a great season that created many memories.

BEYOND EXPECTATIONS

It was one of those seasons that at the beginning didn't look like it would be anything spectacular. In fact, coach Dominey felt that the team could be competitive but they would certainly have their work cut out for them.

By the seasons end, the boy's team would be one of the two teams that would represent the league. They kept on improving from the very start of the season and pulled together to make this year into a memorable one.

"I really can't believe how this team came together on pure determination," commented coach Dominey. "They exceeded my expectations and reached the goals that they set out to do from the beginning."

Fishermen Earn State Semi-final Berth

The 1995 AHS soccer season started with high expectations, and hopes for a return trip to the State Playoffs. The Fishermen opened up preseason and early league play with resounding victories over all of their opponents. However when team leader Alex Zametkin went down with a fracture to his skull, the Fishermen had visions of their dream season going down the drain. But the adversity did not bring them down, it only made them stronger. Great chemistry and team unity propelled the Fishermen through the down period when it would have been easy to give up.

Hard work, dedication, and attitude earned the Fishermen second place in the District 1 standings with a 9-2-1 record. Playoff wins over Corbett and St Helens meant a State Playoff birth and a trip to Catlin Gable for the first seed in the District. The Fishermen put up a gallant effort, with arguably their best game of their season, in a 2-1 loss to the Eagles.

Being the number two seed sent the Fishermen on the road for the first round match at Philomath. The Warriors struck first, but goals by Clint Kindred and B.J. Lyngstad were the deciding factor in a 2-1 victory. The quarterfinal game was not much of a test for the team. Playing inspired behind their home crowd the Fishermen took it to Marist by a final of 3-0. The semifinals put Astoria on the road again, to the southern champs, Phoenix. The Pirates started very fast and the squad found it too much to overcome. Phoenix earned a trip to the State Finals by a score of 5-2.

Astoria soccer has established itself as a perennial power in the state. Trophies from the State Playoffs three out of the last four years and this year were one step away from the Championship game. With six starters returning for next years' team, the future looks bright. However, this years' team will definitely be one to remember.

PLAYOFF CELEBRATION

Senior midfielder B.J. Lyngstad gets congratulated after scoring the game winning goal over St.Helens to send the Fishermen to state.

ON THE ATTACK

Controlling the ball, Junior Chris Ritter settles the pass and beats the Valley Catholic defender in the 10-1 thrashing of the Valliants.

COMPOSURE

Running onto the pass, Sophomore Clint Kindred collects the ball and directs it towards the goal! The fishermen beat Corbett (4-0) in this district playoff match.

WELL IN

Winning a tackle, Sophomore Clint Kindred beats the Corbett defender to the ball in a District playoff win. Clint's great efforts on the field this season earned him All-District honors.

BRINGING IT DOWN

Moving on to the ball, Junior Chris Ritter times the cross from the midfielder and makes his run to control the ball. Chris's touch and ability allowed him to make the move from the outside, to play up front this fall.

TOUGH ON THE BALL

Pushing away the Corbett defender, Sophomore Jared Bigby fights for the loose ball. Jared's skill and tenacity will make him a big part of AHS teams for years to come.

BLOWING THEM AWAY

Dribbling through the St. Helens defense, Senior Alex Zametkin puts on a burst of speed and carries the ball towards goal. Alex's soccer ability and leadership was a big part of the team's success this year.

ON TARGET

Taking a shot from the corner of the box, Senior outside midfielder B.J. Lyngstad puts the ball by the defender and on goal. B.J. broke down opposing defenses with his speed on the wing.

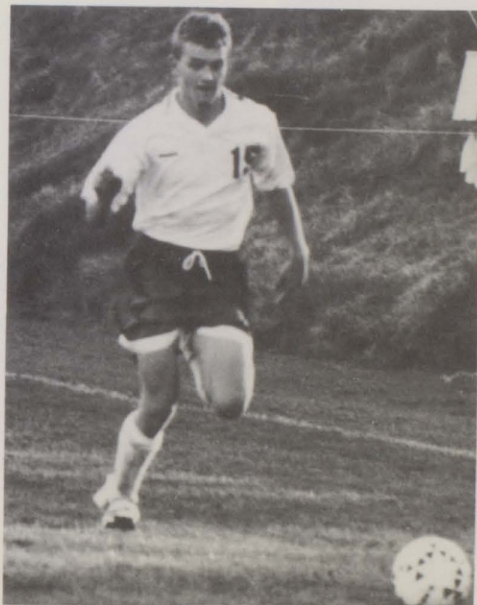

STEPPING UP

Moving forward to clear a ball, Senior sweeper Nathan Schauermann starts the attack with a pass from the back. Nathan's exceptional defensive play was a huge part of the Fishermen's semifinal run.

DOWN THE SIDE

Junior midfielder Jim Satterwhite beats the outside fullback and crosses the ball in the quarter final win over Marist. Jim's speed and skill on the outside earned him a starting spot this fall.

VICTORY LAP

As the home crowd whooped it up, Jared Bigby congratulates teammate Randall Snow following his brilliant strike from midfield. Randall lead the team in scoring and was found to be the Most Inspirational player on the team.

EXCUSE ME

Gritting his teeth and turning on the speed, Junior midfielder Randall Snow blows past a Marist defender on his way towards the goal. The Fishermen defeated Marist (3-0) on thier way to the State Semifinals.

TEAM UNITY

A large part of the teams success this year was do to excellent team chemistry throughout the entire season. The Fishermen's final record on the season was (14-4-1). The team consisted of six all-league players and three all-state players.

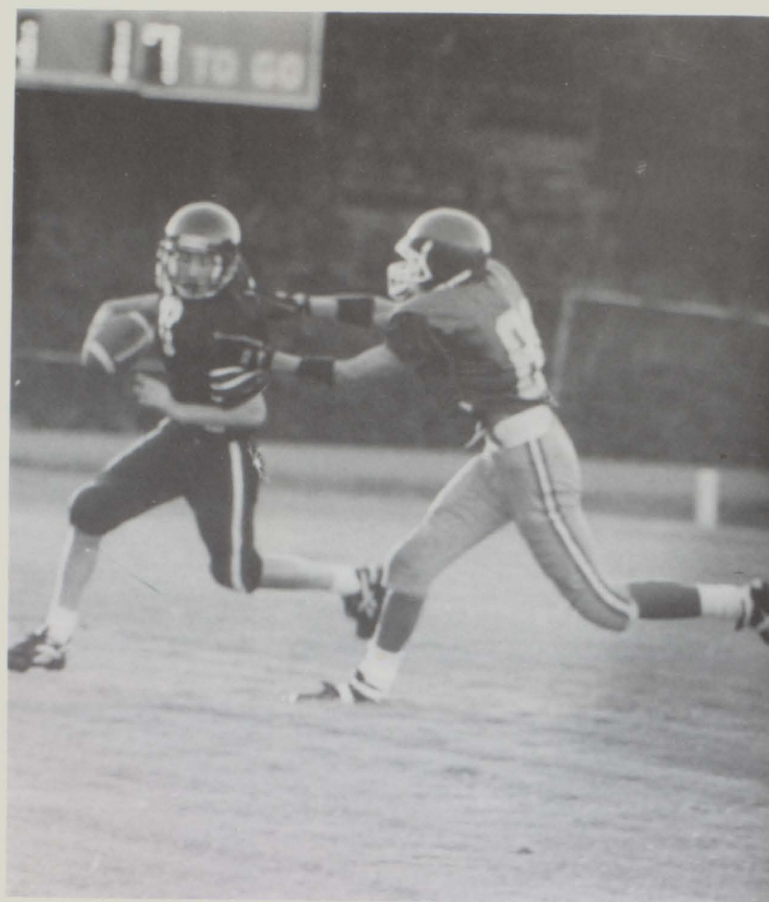

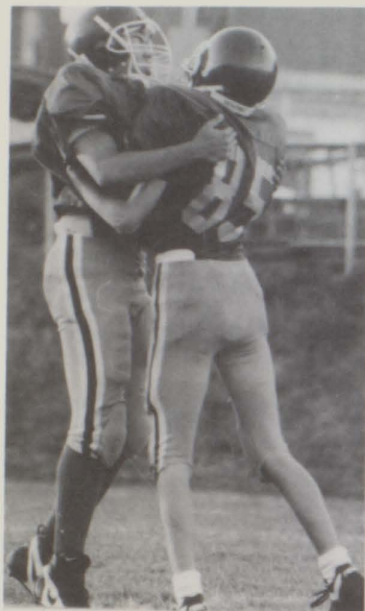

FRESHMEN

CAN'T FAKE ME OUT

Tillamook attempted a fake punt on the fourth down, but Justin Kalar stopped it for a 17-yard loss, making the Cheese-makers turn the ball over to the Fishermen.

HAPPY HUGGING

Celebrating Justin Kalar's play, Scott Olson and Richard Gau embrace each other in excitement after Kalar stopped Tillamook's important play.

Swarming around Tillamook's offense, the Fishermen defense engulfs the easy prey. The defense was a key factor for the Fishermen, because they held all of their opponents to 14 points or less in a game.

SPEEDY GONZALAZ

Intercepting the ball from the Newport offense, Pat Wood runs 60 yards for the touchdown and wins the game for the Fishermen.

FRESH VOLLEYBALL

ACE!

Reaching high to the sky, Nicole Pierie tries hard to keep her serve in the court. Nicole utilized her skills to help the team to a winning season.

GET DOWN

Keeping her eyes on the ball, Saryn Erickson gets low for a perfect pass to the setter. Saryn was a key passer for the team this year.

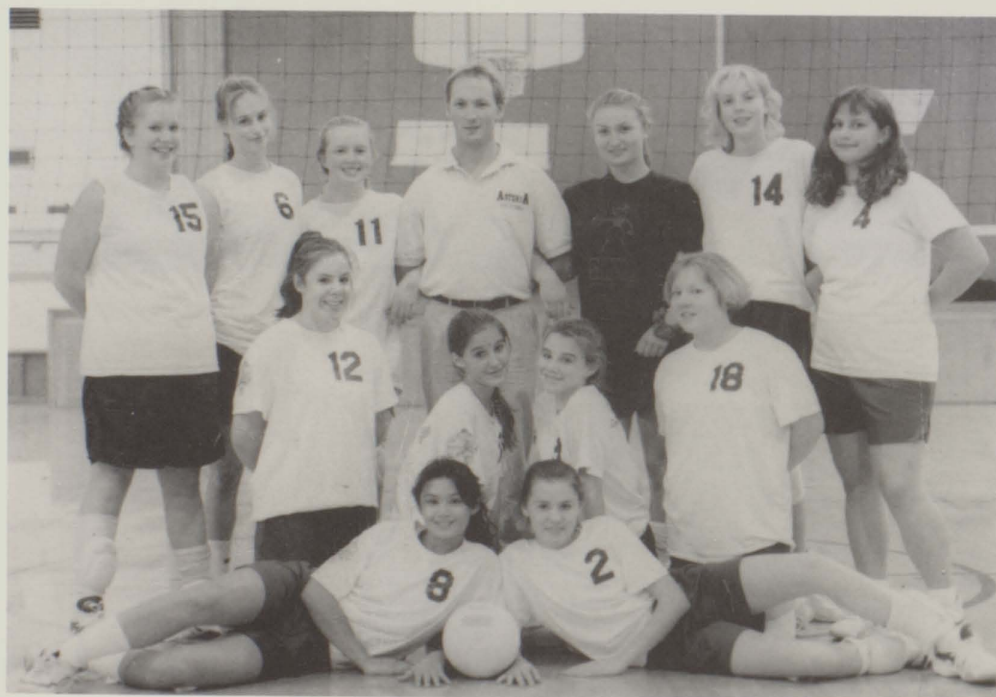

HUDDLE UP!

Plotting a way to win, the freshmen team huddles around Coach Gabriel during a time out to listen in the new strategy.

READY POSITION

Waiting for the serve, Leah Schauermann puts her "thumbs to the wood" as the Varsity coach Mr. Wilson has always taught her.

Front: Leslie Crane, Nicole Pierie. Middle: Tracy Forrester, Rachel Van Dusen, Emily Tische, Charity Higgins. Back: Courtney Person, Leah Schauermann, Saryn Erickson, Coach Gabriel, Bobbi Rudolphi, Erica Hoagland, Andrea Mazzarella.

CAN YOU DIG IT?

Passing the ball directly to the setter, junior Jenny Laughman, a passing specialist, hits the target just like expected. This year, Jenny got some playing time on the Varsity team.

GOOD TIMES/BAD TIMES

Giving high fives all around, the J.V. team celebrates one of their many good times. They ended up beating Scappoose in this match.

HIT IT WHERE THEY'RE NOT

Stretching for that extra inch, sophomore Jodi Salmi hits a down ball, smashing it into the opposing side.

AIR HAGLUND

Catching some air, sophomore Marissa Haglund hits the ball around the Clatskanie blockers. Marissa was a strong player for the J.V. team.

GETTIN' AROUND

On his way down the field, sophomore Jeremy Ahola passes off in order to get around a Baptist Christian defender.

JUST KICKIN' IT

Showing good foot-eye coordination, junior Jason Martinez plays the ball up for a driving breakaway goal. Jason alternated his playing time between J.V. and Varsity this year.

PASS IT UP

Looking for an open teammate, sophomore Adam Turigliatto makes a move to put the ball in position for a goal. Adam also gained some Varsity experience this season.

BALL GETTER

Receiving a pass, sophomore Will Burdette takes control of the ball and keeps his cool to set up for a goal.

GO FOR THE GOAL

Making an attempt to score, the Fishermen pull in after a corner kick to head the ball into the goal.

SKY HIGH

Jumping for joy, sophomore Will Burdette celebrates junior Jason Martinez's goal which put the team ahead 1-0 in the match against Baptist Christian.

Clearing the ball away from the goal, sophomore goalkeeper Jesse Browning sends it to the midfield and keeps it alive.

In the next ten years I will probably be on a tropical island lounging on the beach with buff guys rubbing sun tan oil on my back after a long day at the office. I will also be one of the richest women in the world.

Vanessa Larsen

In ten years I will look like Al Bundy, and selling small shoes to fat women.

Josh Hemeon

In ten years I will be in my fifth year of college, awaiting three more years to go. I will be attending the University of Washington, studying to be a veterinarian. I will be living in a semi-nice apartment with my animals and still be with Travis Caulder. Fourteen years of being together.

Tammie Marie Harding

In ten years I will still be trying to graduate from college and having fun with all my toys.

Derek Osterholme

Married, one child, living in my new house, maybe even retired. Ha-Ha! That would be nice!

Amy Becken

After graduating from Uof O, I will be living with my husband on a golf course in Hawaii (not Lds Vegas) with 26 dogs in a log cabin.

Rachel Morris

I'll be livin' in a fat house in Lds Vegas, with enough money for whatever I want.

Eric Tisch

I will be at Astoria High trying to pass speech class. When I do I will be a rich movie star making comedy movies.

Doug Aveline

Upon my release from the Shady Glenn Corrections facility, I will be very happy to see my husband, the king of a small island in the South Pacific. This will be a very stressful time for me because I will be finishing my acceptance speech for the Nobel Peace Prize, but I will still have time to catch a movie with my personal movie critic, Dale Flowers.

Crystal Moore

I haven't the slightest idea. I don't plan my future that far ahead, and even if I did, it probably wouldn't turn out as I planned.

Gabriel White

Single and wealthy. Working as some kind of doctor and occasionally traveling to Italy where I will search for my future husband.

Nikki Desiderati

In ten years I will either be dead from getting run over in college football, or I will be a teacher and head football coach at some high school in the United States.

Guy Knight

Terra and I will be laying on the beach in California sucking down cheap beer, dreaming about guys we'll never meet, and cars we'll never drive.

Erin House

I will be camping in the woods while it is raining with the usual campers. We will have a lot of cold, frosty, malted adult beverage for everyone.

Nick Meyer

I will probably still be stuck in Astoria hangin' out with Brandy, Rob, and Scott. Drivin' around looking for the perfect camping spot.

Melissa McCall

In ten years I will be close to getting my master's degree in computer Science. I will be working for a large software company for $60,000 to $70,000 a year. I will be married and have children. I will write complex virtual reality programs and working on branching out into my own programming business.

Clarence B. Krueger II

In ten years I'll be the top accountant for Disney. I'll have already been around the world six times. I'll be married and living in the largest mansion in Astoria besides the Flavel House. And I'll be as tall as the Jolly Green Giant.

Rillie Mathre

I'll be carrying on the family tradition of producing the world's finest toilet paper, hoping that the business never bottoms out!

Gwyneth Scott

In ten years I will be finishing my round of golf and racing to get to the bowling alley in time.

Eric Gustafson

A millionaire, with the help of "Air Cheney: Combat Farmer," Zak, and my cartel. We will put to work all of the great investment skills we learned in Mr. Sarins economics class and use them to take out the government we learned to hate, thanks to Mr. Bruner. My stock market cartel will take over the world replacing weak governments with a new world order headed by regional governors who answer to me, the boss. I will conquer and you will obey... Or maybe I'll do some traveling. I'm not sure yet.

Josh "Phred" Dickson

I will be a teacher, married, and getting ready to have kids. Idget, Beccazine, Mich, and I will still have cackling fests, watch one stars with the group, plot nasty evils, and write Butch cartoons. When Phred's coup de tat fails he'll seek solice with apple fights at my house.

Amy Scholerman

I will still be branded as "that can-can girl from Shanghaied" and will never be able to get into a "real" play ever again. Theatre withdrawals will send me to the asylum where Amy S. has resided since AP English 12. We'll watch smurf re-runs while munching green beans and mangoes, Michelle and Becca will visit on weekends and we'll all go outside at 3 a.m. and dance around in our nightgowns 'til we start craving pizza and German chocolate cake. If we ever get any sleep it'll be because someone rigged up the Barney tape. And Jay, manges les grenouilles saignantes!

Jamee Raen Wood

In ten years from now I will be 28 years old, it will be the year 2006, and we will have all seen the turn of the century along with the arrival of the most famous sports bar chain in the world. I will be the co-owner of the multi-million dollar, world famous business known as: B & B Clams & More Sports Bar & Grill. We will bigger, better, and hotter than "Hooters!"

Ben Corderman

Think about it. If I knew what I'd be doing in 10 years, I'd be a psychic. All I know is that I want to be rich, sit in the sun all day and drink Dairy Queen's "strawberry misty coolers."

Amber Kindred

WHERE WILL YOU

I'll probably be playing the piano at some sleazy saloon in Arizona or New Mexico. I'll dodge bullets, miss notes, and have a little sign that says, "Please don't shoot the guy playing the piano. He's trying his best." (Can't wait.)

Eric Wagner

In ten years I'm sure that I will be performing psychoanalysis on most of the staff of AHS- all the while charging 2 arms and 2 legs for my fees! (So I can afford more tattoos!)

Erin Nye

I will be offshore working on a tug headed for Alaska.

Bob Service

I will be almost 28, graduated from college, and have a job that sends me all over the world. I'll still be single, dating, and having a great time! There will always be room in my schedule to pencil in a night out with the "7-up girls." Stay in touch. I love you all!

Krystal Demos

I will be a rich man living in Florida with a lovely wife.

Adam Dean

I will be a beautician, have a beautiful country home, with my wonderful husband, Kirk, and my 10 year old son, Jacob.

Dan'nette Williams

I will probably still be here rewriting my letter of intent for the 10,000 time so Mr. Chapman can find, yet another thing wrong with it, that he didn't see before so I have to rewrite it again, and again, and again.

Steve Mart

I'll be asking my husband if I can stay the night at Lyndsey's house, where we'll sneak out and try to find something to do. Good luck class of '96!

Gina Orlando

I will live in an apartment above a coffee shop. I will work there during the day, and at night I will read my poetry to the sound of jazz music. I will wear a beret and all black clothes and hang out with all of my artist friends.

Jay M. King

I plan to move as far away from Astoria, as I possibly can. living by myself making lots of money, and having a successful career in communications.

Kendra Clune

I will have won the lottery, bought seafont property in Florida, preferably Daytona beach. I will have bought everything I ever dreamed of. Then I will be bankrupt and living in a VAN DOWN BY THE RIVER.

Michael Hauer

I hope to be happy and out of college with my Ph.D. in psychology. Hopefully, I would have already written my first book and have become a success with my profession.

Jessica Christian

I will have first successfully completed my education with honors. I will be highly respected by my colleagues and my financial security will be extremely comfortable. I will have a beautiful wife and children who together value family relationships above all others. I will own property for work and pleasure and vacation in the tropics annually. I will drive an American made car and own my home. I will be involved in my community and on my way to becoming an elected official.

Jason Lewis

I will be a Civil Rights attorney in the Washington D.C. area. My husband of five years and I will be enjoying the fast life very well, putting our new child to bed early quite often to throw wonderful parties in our huge house. We will travel back to the Astoria area at least twice in '06, once for my ten year reunion and once to meet my "lunch table" at Fort Stevens, or to spend some quality time at Embassy Suites.

Sasha Delong

I'll be in Oregon, working as a graphic designer somewhere. Who knows what company. Just drawing and working with computer programs. And then maybe I'll become famous and be like Andy Warhol. But who knows.

Royce Nowak

I will be far away from this town. I will have a good paying job as an occupational therapist and hopefully will be starting a family or at least be married.

Eryn Mowrey

I think I'll be working at a job which pays lots of money. But all of that money will probably go to my college debt that I will still owe. I'll have my own house and be married with one kid. Hopefully none, but you never know.

Patrick McClure

I will still be here in Astoria, and Tammie, Travis, and I will be the only ones left for GNO's on Friday nights. I will still be looking for a recipe for Spacecake for the "G Funk", Missa, Scooter, and Stevie.

Heather Schrode

I'll probably be living in an apartment with my girlfriend working for five dollars an hour and not doing much else except having fun and partying since it won't be Astoria.

Aaron Wright

I will be working in the neonatal center for babies as a nurse during the day, and go home to my husband Orrick Anderson and children at night. I hopefully will have published my own book of poetry writings, and make a great profit off of it, to put away and save for my children's education.

Krystal Hanson

Hopefully, up at the Rose Garden watching the Portland Trail Blazers taking the championship game in the finals against the Toronto Raptors, or the Philadelphia 76ers, or working at a good job.

Dave Nelson

I will be happily married and will be planning on having children soon. I will be working as a dental hygienist and together with my husband's salary will have quite a bit of money, and I will no longer live in Astoria.

Megan McCoy

I don't know where I'll be in ten years. Hopefully, everything will be alright.

Brett Marconeri

I will have finished college. I will have graduated with a master's degree in physical therapy and an associate's degree in music. I will live in a medium size town and I will be married to a great guy with one or two kids. I will be having the time of my life.

Christy Van Winkle

I'll be camping with Nick in ten years, and still working on my truck.

David Lindstrom

HOW VALUABLE ARE SPORTS?

With serious state budget cuts endangering all extra-curricular activities in the schools, the issue of value and money rises to the top of the heated debate on how to keep athletics as a part of the schools.

The effects of tax cuts, adding prison facilities, and more government programs has trickled down to the schools and the programs that they can afford to support. In the not so distant future, the question of whether keeping sports or losing teachers will become the platform for every community.

While Portland schools were able to dodge the bullet that would have shot down athletics with a generous grant from Nike, all the rest of the state schools are not going to be as fortunate. The survival of each sport may very well balance in each communities involvement with the schools.

We asked student-athletes from our school about the value and importance of keeping the sports programs intact. Their answers varied and each one found the lessons gained from being active in athletics had its strengths that couldn't be replaced.

Sports are valuable because if you don't have sports, school can become boring. A lot of kids go on to college because of their athletic ability, besides their academic ability.

-Kurt Loukkula

Sports teach teamwork and they become an incentive.

- Chris Nemlowill

Sports are important because they keep you out of trouble and give us something to do after school.

-Jill Kelley

Sports help you to deal with people and certain situation later on in life.

-Derek Osterholme

Sports are good because they require a lot of discipline, and they teach persistence and camaraderie.

- Eric Wagner

They bring a sense of friendship and teach team unity.

-Autumn Zorich

It keeps you active, and physically and mentally fit. Sports build self-confidence.

-Kathleen Norgaard

Sports teach us about teamwork and discipline .

- Clint Kindred

To play sports you have to keep your grades up, and they help to keep kids away from drugs and alcohol.

- Rob Landwher

Sports keep us disciplined and discipline is good.

-Clinton Oja

Sports give us something to do.

- Leslie Crane

Sports help people to work together.

-Jenny Laughman

Sports give me something to do and they're fun. They teach teamwork, and help keep me out of trouble.

- Aaron Demase

Sports give kids something to look forward to during school.

-Louie Jaussaud

Sports teach you how to work together to achieve your goals.

1996 FIGHTING FISHERMEN BASKETBALL SEASON HIGHLIGHTS

As usual, the Cowapa League was predicted to be a very tough one this year. The first polls of the season had Astoria, Clatskanie, and Tillamook all in the top ten in the state. The predicted top two teams in the state, Clatskanie #1 and Tillamook #2, were teams that the Fishermen were going to have to face in league competition. The road to a third straight league title looked to be long and hard. The Fishermen finished up the league play with a record of 13-1, with their only loss handed to them by the ever dangerous Tillamook.

The team, who was very senior dominated this season, did find their way to that league title, and with that, scooped up five of the all-league positions. Leading the way with a first team all-league position was senior captain and team M.V.P. Derek Osterholme. Osterholme was accompanied on the first team by junior August Norgaard. Seniors Kris Svensen and Aaron Wright, along with sophomore Eli Ettro, received honorable mention from the league.

A noticable characteristic of the Fishermen was the unproven varsity experience. Derek Osterholme had the most experience with this being his third varsity year. Senior Blue Steinback, junior August Norgaard, and sophomore Eli Ettro were all in their second varsity season. There were eight players on the team this season who were newcomers to the varsity level. The lack of varsity experience proved to be no problem for the league champs. As coach Goin predicted a lot of people did play a lot of minutes and Astoria once again had a very successful season!

DENYING THE BALL

establishing himself as a dominant player under the hoop, senior captain, Blue Steinback plays some tough defense against the visiting Indians of Scappoose.

RIPPING IT DOWN

The advantage of having height under the hoop is evident when the Astoria big men step onto the floor. Joey Sumnerlin out jumps the Clatskanie players and pulls down this defensive board.

RUNNING THE FLOOR

Utilizing his superior ball control, Eli Ettro takes control of the lane as he blows by the Seaside defender. Astoria defeated the visiting Seagulls 74-59.

FAST BREAK

Seeing only an open floor in front of himself, speedy Aaron Wright finds his way to the hoop for an easy two points. Aaron's quick and intensive play was a huge contribution to the team this year.

BACK ON DEFENSE

Veteran head coach, Mike Goin commands his team to get back and set up their man-to-man defense. The Fishermen came on strong at the end of the season to capture the Cowapa League Championship, an eight consecutive trip to the State Tournament, and five players received All-League recognition.

GAINING CONTROL

Reaching for a loose ball, senior wing Kris Svensen attempts to gain possession for the Fishermen. Astoria defeated Creswell and finished second in the annual Christmas tournament.

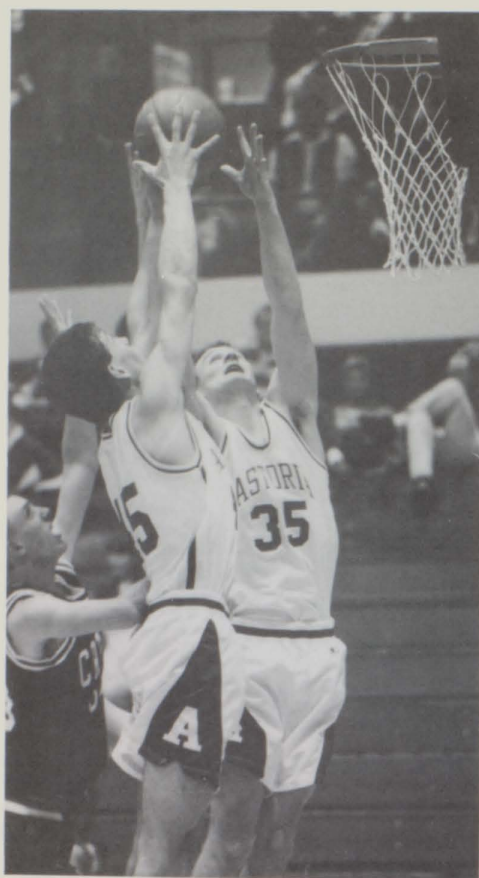

PENETRATION

Using his athleticism, junior August Norgaard scrambles through and leaps over the Knappa defense. Norgaard finished the game with 11 points as he lead the Fishermen in scoring.

"We were hit and miss, sometimes we played well and sometimes we didn't." -Coach Goin

PULLING UP STRONG

Coming off the bench and hitting a key basket for the Fishermen, Aaron Wright helped Astoria hold onto their lead against the #1 team in the state. The fishermen knocked Tillamook off of the top spot in the league as well as the state polls.

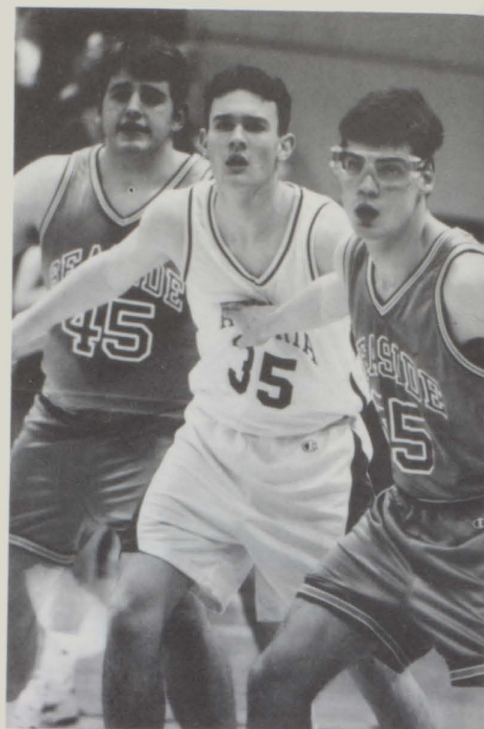

HITTING THE BOARDS

Big men Austin Houghtaling and Derek Osterholme battle for a rebound in a game against Creswell during the Vince Dulcich Memorial Tournament.

INSIDE POSITION

Positioning himself for a pass, senior captain Derek Osterholme finds himself between two Seagull defenders. Derek finished the game with an impressive 18 points and 11 rebounds.

DRAWING A CROWD

Going to the basket strong Derek Osterholme powers his way through the Logger defense. This basket was two of Osterholmes eleven points in this non-league contest with Knappa.

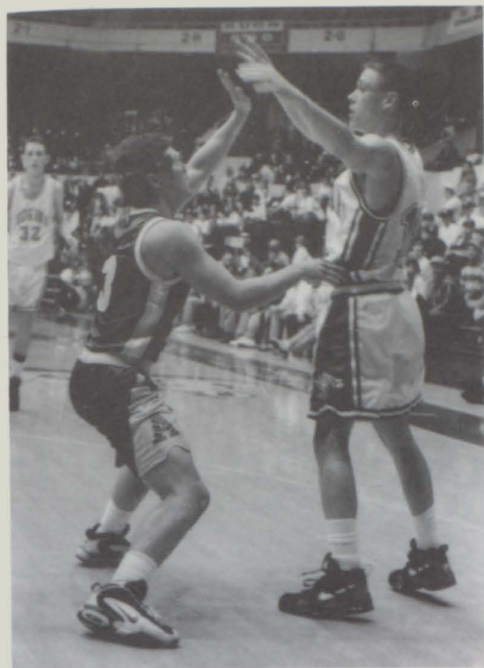

DISHING OFF

Looking for a little help from his teammates, junior Jeff Hawkins feels the pressure from the Bulldog defender. Astoria beat visiting Creswell 63-41.

IN HIS FACE

Playing some tough and quick defense, August Norgaard leaves the Illinois Valley player with no where to go. Astoria came out fired up in their first game of the tourney, dropping the Cougars straight into the consolation bracket.

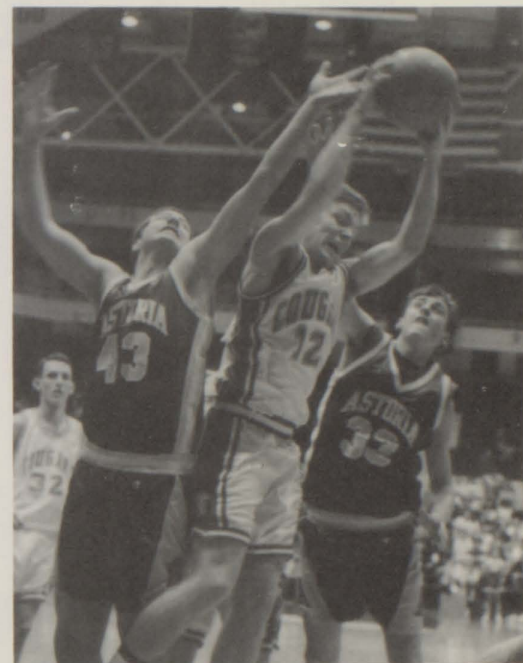

BASELINE CONTROL

In his final high school basketball performance, Derek Osterholme played with flare. He is seen here pulling down a rebound against Molalla, despite the loss, Derek, as well as the team, had an incredible season.

BATTLE FOR THE BOARDS

Swating at the ball and attempting to capture the rebound, seniors, Kris Svensen and Blue Steinback battle it out under the hoop with an Illinois Valley player.

OFF THE GLASS

Going over the top of the Illinois Valley Cougar defense, senior Joe Summerlin scores an easy two points in the Fishermen's first tournament game.

FIRE IT UP

Prior to facing the #2 team in the state, Illinois Valley, the Fishermen group together in their usual huddle. The Fishermen went on to defeat Illinois Valley 74-63.

Illinois Valley- 63 Astoria- 74

During the first half, the score kept flip-flopping. Illinois Valley would go ahead four or five points and then Astoria would catch up.

After halftime, Astoria made clean passes and started scoring. They pulled away from Illinois Valley and never looked back.

Philomath- 64 Astoria- 59

For the first time in nine years, it looked like the Fishermen would win the second game of the tournament. It's the fourth quarter, and the score is tied 42-42. By the end of the first overtime, the score was tied again, 50-50. Double overtime.

This is where it would end. Philomath went up seven points. The only thing they could do was foul them, so they did. Philomath made their foul shots and put the game out of reach.

Molalla- 69 Astoria- 41

This is the game that ended the tourney for the tired squad. The score for the first quarter was 16-3 and by halftime it was 34-20.

Nothing changed in the second half. Molalla kept a steady lead, and Astoria slowly drifted away, giving up all hopes of winning. Third quarter score: 52-28.

In the fourth quarter it was hopeless. From the very beginning, it looked like Astoria didn't even care about the game and gave up before it even started. With less than a minute to go, the crowd chanted "It's All Over." And it was.

-K.N.

Pulling Together to Beat the Odds

It would be easy to get discouraged after losing 11 league games. In fact, it might seem like a bad dream. Up until the last game of the season, the team had not been able to keep the lead on anyone; then it all came together.

It was the last game of the season, and the opponent was Seaside. This was the last chance to prove to everyone that yes, they could win. They pulled it off 53-49, and earned themselves the win that they had been searching for. "It felt good to have the five seniors play together well as a team," said Sydney Van Dusen. Andrea Schlieski said, "I'm glad...it was Seaside that we beat." "It was a lot of fun playing together one last time. WE WON!!!" quoted Lisa Pender. Despite the losses, the girls had a fun season.

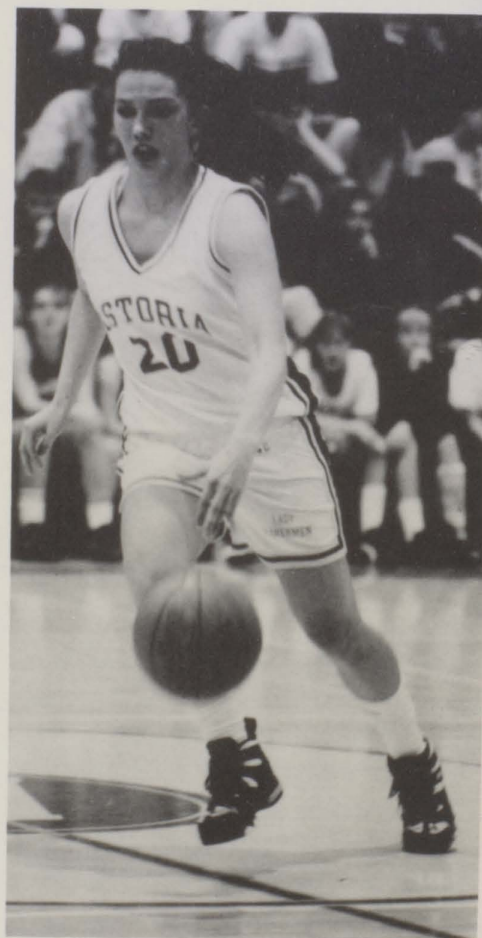

COME BACK HERE

Racing around the backside of the offensive player, senior Lyndsey Wirth kept the pressure on as the defense stops the Gull attack.

A FAREWELL TRIBUTE

Before the last home game, the seniors not only wore tatoos, but they honored their parents with flowers. Andrea Schlieski presented not only a rose but a big hug to her mom and dad.

WE FINALLY DID IT!

The excitement was overwhelming as the final seconds ticked off the clock during the last game of the season and the team was ahead for the first time during the regular season. It was a Kodak moment that we can all share.

TAKING IT TO THE HOOP

Driving down the middle of the key, sophomore Jodi Salmi slides past the defender for an easy layin. Throughout the season, Jodi provided some big plays and added a lot to the inside game of the team.

A STEP AHEAD OF PRESSURE

Getting ahead of the Seaside press, senior Sydney VanDusen races away from the pack to get the fastbreak in motion. The seniors really picked up their game during the last part of the season to provide some exciting basketball.

HANDS UP!

Reaching for a loose ball off the boards, Sydney VanDusen and Gina Orlando fight for position. Defensively, the team was aggressive and did a good job of keeping opponents in check.

STANDBY

Senior Sydney VanDusen watches Junior Maria Schauermann battle for the ball against Seaside during their last game of the season.

KEY REBOUND

Wanting the rebound more than the Seaside opponent, senior Lisa Pender snatches the ball away during the closing moments of the teams only win.

NOW WHAT ARE WE GOING TO DO?

Keeping his eye on the scoreboard, coach Davis ponders what to do when your team is 20 points behind and three minutes left in the game. Unfortunately, there were many moments like this as the team struggled to come out ahead on the final score of all but one of their league games.

GIVE THAT BACK!

Putting on some backcourt pressure, Sydney VanDusen gets her hands on the ball to force a Seaside turnover at the critical closing moments of the game.

The 1995-96 swim season was definately a memorable one. With two returning seniors, Loren Gustafson and Kathleen Norgaard, the team had to look to its underclassmen for needed depth. New comers: Carl Earl, Kristiina Toivonen, Rick Henry, Bonnie Williams, Bill Gunderson, Alicia Christian, Nery Gonzalez, Eric Tucker, Jason Martinez, Kirsten Gunderson, Jacob Rummell, and Willie Gonzalez brought new blood to the team.

With strong personalities in everyone in everyone, it seemed as if the bickering would never end, but finally, the last week of practice everyone put their differences aside and became friends with each other.

School records were broken as Kirsten Gunderson set the record in the 50 freestyle at 27.25. Kathleen Norgaard, Ab Lane, Sarah Mitchell, and Gunderson, set the 200 freestyle relay record at 1:56.06. The boys' came within a second of setting the record themselves.

EVEN THOUGH THERE SEEMED TO BE A LACK OF ENTHUSIASM AND SUPPORT FOR THE TEAMS, THERE WAS STILL A LOT OF

SPIRIT

Sure the pep assemblies were poorly attended and the alternative scene grew in popularity, but that didn't stop everyone from joining in

What we need is some good old fashioned enthusiasm.

From, "The pep assemblies are stupid", to "I think it's great to yell at the top of my lungs," the opinions were more weighted towards doing away with pep assemblies in the future. If and when that happens, the role of sports will probably be changing also.

TEAM SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

The J.V. baseball team had a rough season, but "We showed improvement throughout the year," said coach Joe Dominey. The team ended the year on a good note when Aaron Demase threw a no-hitter and struck out 15 batters, helping the team to a 6-4 victory over Seaside. The team was led by Demase with a batting average of .576 and Matt Gustofson with .321. The team averaged 3.4 runs a game and ended their season with a team record of 3-15.

IT ALL CAME DOWN TO ONE DAY...

With many obstacles in their path, the young Fishermen united as a team to become contenders in the Cowapa league.

Going in, the '95-'96 team had promise of being one of the best in AHS history. But a shortened season, foul weather, and the loss of experienced seniors left the Fishermen just short of post-season play. With a 7-5 record entering the final league doubleheader, Astoria had put themselves in the place they wanted to be. A sweep of St. Helens placed the Fishermen in the State Playoffs; one loss and they were eliminated. Because of rain, which plagued baseball teams around the state, the doubleheader with the Lions was moved to Hood River Valley. Astoria came out strong and scored two runs in the top of the first inning. But St. Helens was ready for the challenge. Mounting an impressive offensive attack, the Lions took advantage of every opportunity presented to them. St. Helens overcame the early deficit to win the game, which eliminated the Fishermen's chances for a State Playoff appearance. Senior captain Blue Steinback commented, "This team has nothing to be ashamed of, we got farther than anyone expected, and gave ourselves a chance on the final day."

For the first time in 20 years, the girls golf team won a trophy at the state championships. District Champions...FINALLY

After years of coming in second the boys' track team finally earned themselves a victory...a district one. While the boys' have won countless meets, they never have earned enough points to credit themselves with being the best in the district. 1996 changed all that. They edged past Rainier by one point (136-135) to claim the trophy. As for the AHS girls', they came to tougher challenges. With a strong female team from Rainier, the girls' would have to settle for a tie with Banks (48 points each) for 7th place. The championship came down to the 1600 meter relay. In the end, Astoria won the race by .02 seconds. Said Dan Thompson, "I felt pretty excited man. I wish that I would've gotten first in the javelin, but I choked." The team put forth the extra effort to get the win, and it paid off. "It was cool," said Phil Finzer. In fact, both Nathan Schauermann and Jeff Scoggins said, "It was awesome!" Some of the athletes ran personal bests including Mike Hauer. "I ended up running a personal best in the 800 meter run to end a great season. It felt pretty good, man!" Adam Dean sums it up simply by saying, "I was pretty pumped up!"

The top two finishers in each event continue their track season to the State Championships held annually in Eugene at U of O's Hayward field. Qualifying from Astoria were: Kathleen Norgaard, shot put and discus; Katy Wentworth, 100 meter dash; Kurt Loukkala, shot put; Alex Zametkin, 100 meter dash, 200 meter dash, 400 meter relay, 1600 meter relay; Nathan Schauermann, triple jump, 1600 meter relay, 400 meter relay; Nathan Doney, high jump; Zach Covell, 1600 meter relay; Adam Dean, 400 relay; Andrew Kindred, 400 meter dash, 400 meter relay, 1600 meter relay; Dan Thompson, javelin.

Learning the Hard Way

The 1996 varsity softball team had many changes and drawbacks entering the season. With a new head coach, Mr. Andrea, on board, many of the girls had to adapt to his form of coaching which has been different from the past. With only two juniors to lead the bunch, the team had to catch up on the experience that was missing. Being in a league which has had a team that has won the state title two years running, catching up wasn't an easy task.

"The girls had a big job to complete without any experience to do so," said Coach Andrea on his young team.

With most games, winning wasn't the issue, it was the effort and support that the team gave out for the game. Co-captain Jennifer Martin expressed, "Winning didn't mean anything with the game with Banks, the way we played meant much more."

Now that the difficult season has ended the girls look towards the future with the experience and now know what needs to be done for next year.

REGISTER AND VOTE

AND THE RACE IS ON...

Representing the state of Alaska, one of the three state Co-Chairpersons, James Bryant announces Alaska's delegate votes. Alaska was supporting Bob Dole for President.

VOTING PRIDE

On the second day of the convention Astorias students eagerly sit and listen as every state reads off their delegate votes.

Students take their turn at Politics

*Who says you have to be 18
to vote for a President?*

In February, 19 of Mr. Sarin's Adv. American Government and American Politics students joined by four of Mr. Hensley's students went to Portland Memorial Collesium for three days to take part in the 1996 Mock Republican Convention. The twenty-three students were: Tina Amela, James Bryant, Trudy Van Dusen, Kate Worth, Sasha DeLong, Stefanie Fay, Mike Hauer, Eric Jacobsen, Clarence Krueger, Erin Munro, Jenny Laughman, Monique Hartill, Scott Hoofnagle, Marjo Larson, Jason Lewis, Kerby McGinnis, Chrissy Middleton, Gina Orlando, Nathan Schauermaann, John Osborn, Katie McNally, Magan MacNendrick, and Rosie Keenan. Astoria's students, represented the state of Alaska, lobbied, made nominating speeches, voted, and listened to speakers (all prominent business people) including excellent speeches by Pres. of the Oregon State Senate, Gordon Smith and Oregon's Commissioner of Labor and Industries, Jack Roberts.

Alan Keyes, a Republican running for President, was nice enough to call in and talk to all of the students over the loudspeaker.

All of the visiting speakers and the platform debates were held on the first two days. The final day was when the excitement started as the presidential nominating speeches were held, followed by the voting.

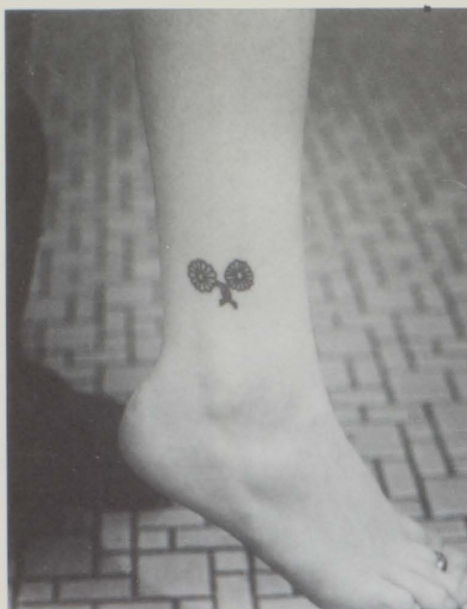

The delegates ended up voting five times with Lamar Alexander winning the final nomination. The Vice-President nomination went to Phil Gramm.

Even though some students may not have been "die-hard Republicans" all would agree it was a great experience that brought on a whole new understanding of how a political party chooses a candidate.

TATTOO

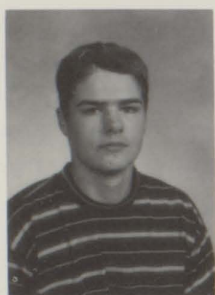

In our school, there were many people, each with their own way of expressing themselves. These students chose to express themselves by getting bodyart, more commonly known as tattooing. These are only some of the people in our school that have been so bold as to have some kind of art permanently etched in their skin.

Tattooing has become a very popular form of self-expression in all age groups and social classes. Twenty years ago people with tattoos were shunned because society saw it as "distasteful", much like body piercing is today. But, society has accepted this form of art, and more people are getting tattoos than ever.

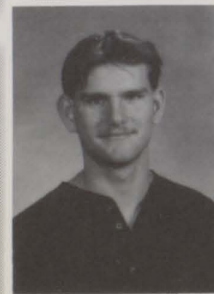

This tattoo of daisies belongs to senior Kendra Clune. For her 16th birthday, her mother took her out and payed the $55 for the tattoo. "Tattooing is addicting," said Kendra "and i want more."

OUTDOOR SCHOOL

This Fall, 17 upper classmen were chosen to spend three days at Camp Kiwanalong. Each student was in charge of eight or nine fourth or fifth graders from Lewis and Clark Grade School. The Outdoor School was part of the science curriculum for the grade school. They spent three days learning about seeds,

"I encourage others to volunteer next year." - Kathleen Norgaard lichens and map making. "I learned how to relate to younger kids and one of my strengths is to guide them in the right direction. A career choice might be to teach," said Senior Amy Scholerman. "Outdoor school would have been the perfect experience if it weren't for the rain," Junior Cathy Jo Wood said of the three days. Not only did the kids have fun. The counselors got a well deserved break with pizza, pop and a wet and wild canoe ride. There was a spectacular water show as the counselors went down the lake. Water was being splashed from one canoe to another. Seniors Sasha Delong and Guy Knight got a "little help from their friend", Nathan Doney, as they were disembarking from their canoe. Needless to say Sasha and Guy got a bit more after being dumped into the lake. Outdoor School was a time of learning, sharing, growing and getting wet.

TIME OUT!

After hours of continuously running around, senior Daniel Schneider stops a camper and makes him take a time out.

FOURTH GRADE GAMES

"Down by the bank of the Hankity Pankity", is the game senior Sydney Van Dusen and the girls find so amusing.

BREAKFAST TIME TRICK

Noticing that his campers are trying to pull a fast one on him, senior Mike Hauer smiles at the attempt but makes them stay in the cafeteria anyway.

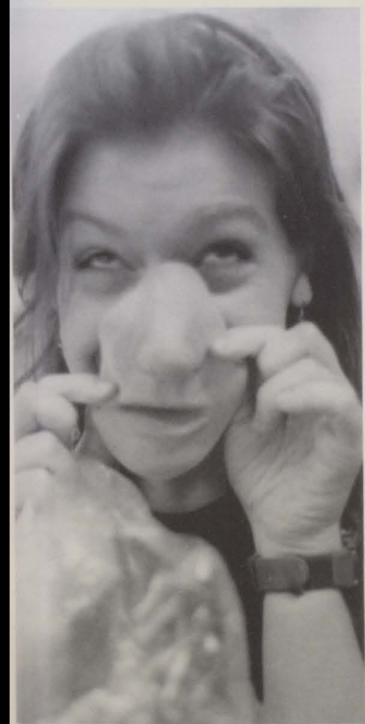

CHEESING IT UP

Taking a break from the rigorous activities of Outdoor School, the counselors had a pizza party followed by a water fight in the canoes.

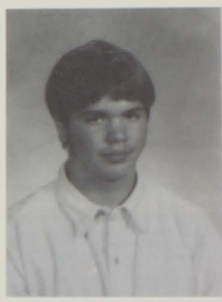

MORNING MAN

"I'm stuck washing dishes," says sophomore Matt Stewert while in first period Foods 4 Health.

Where will you

Someplace beautiful, with someone wonderful, doing something great.

Monique Hartill

I have no idea.

Jacob Ormes

I will be on Saturday Night Live just like I always wanted. I won't be rich, but I'll be a happy person, always trying to get people to laugh. I will also have a car with a horn that honks, "Caw! Caw! Caw!" And I'll honk it all the time (especially for Kurt Landwehr who loves my cawing!) so that I'll never forget all the fun I had during cross country, swimming, and track. And when I'm not busy, I'll stop by Broadway and play "Jan" in their version of Grease! Where ever I'll be, I'll be smiling.

Kathleen Norgaard

I'll be making money and buying toys.

Michael Junes

I will probably be a starving artist.

Cathy Scarborough

I will be working in a dental office as a hygienist raking in the money. My boss, the dentist, will be young, single, rich, and so fine! I will take my annual two month trip to the Bahamas with Gwyneth. I will also make frequent trips to the set of Saturday Night Live to watch "Ath" perform and hear the ever famous, "Caw! Caw! Caw!"

Joanna Nerenberg

Probably threatening someone's life.

... in ten years?

ten years I will be a happily married 28 or old, living the life I've always dreamed of as a professional interior designer, running my own company in the heart of Beverly Hills and New York. Once a month the rest of the "7-up gang" and I will get together for a girls night out on the town. I will have finally overcome my hatred for carnival rides so I can enjoy them with Jolene and Ben, I will still be baking Gina chocolate chip cookies, and will have cooked Aaron the breakfast I promised him. Oh yeah! And I'll still be getting calls from Kyle to help him with something.

Lisa Gustafson

I will be filthy rich and lovin' life.

Robert Hall

Gwyneth and I will be filthy rich from investing in her toilet paper company. We'll probably still be single and spend our Saturday nights at the movies sitting front and center and ragging on the bimbo actresses.

We'll live in a pink house and have banana stickers wallpapering the bathroom. I'll be a social worker with blue hair, a nose ring, and three more tatoos. Life will be good!

Jessica Hart

I'll probably be dead, or living on my own, working, not part of society, but in seclusion.

Amy Hardin

I will be flying spy planes over the enemy.

Nathan Schauer mann

I will be traveling the world in my V.W. bus picking up hitch-hikers.

Changing the Class Length

This year's switch from 45-minute classes to 86-minute classes brought about a big change. Now with only four classes a day on "A" days, and three with a tutorial period for freshmen and sophomores on "B" days, it is certainly different than eight periods. 130 students cast their vote on what they preferred, and here are some answers:

"I think that we should shorten blocks by ten minutes."
-Mrs. Marsch

"I can't pay attention for that long. It's hard to make up work from absences."

-Cary Johnson, junior

"Block scheduling is okay except for the tutorial."

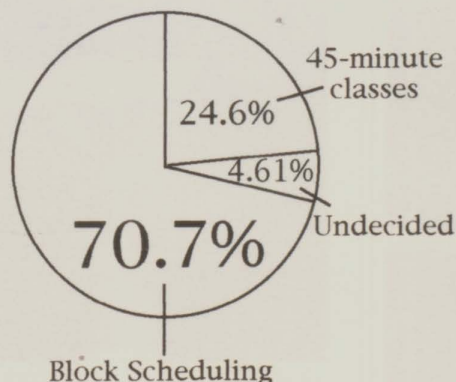

-Ke'Nan Haws, junior

"I'm in love with block scheduling."

-Krissie Villager, sophomore

What do you prefer, block scheduling or 45-minute classes?

Of the 130 people polled, 92 voted for block scheduling, 32 wanted the 45-minute classes back, and 6 people couldn't make up their mind.

In its fourth year, the annual "Senior Project" has proven to be yet another show put on by the graduating class. Every year, the seniors choose a subject where they will devote a minimum of 15 hours to a project and write a 2,000 word paper on a related subject. For the class of 1996 they have chosen a variety of projects. Some of which are: Jacob Ormes- glass blowing; Scott Mart- refurnished cabinets; Amy Hardin, Nikki Desderati, and Brandy Keisel- all made quilts; Rob Hoagland- autobody repair; Pat McClure- 10K in May; Loren Gustafson- reforestation; Lisa Gustafson- redecorated a bedroom; Jamee Wood- sculptied soapstone; Cathy Scarborough- made a miniature ceramic village; Missy Tanguay- learned how to sew; Jolene Smith-

NOTE TAKER

Quickly taking notes in her English class, freshman Tonya Spath makes sure she doesn't miss a word.

TAKE ANOTHER LOOK

Showing off her nifty T, sophomore Krissie Villager wore her opinions on her shirt. While some T-shirt messages were censored, most students used the medium to express their individuality.

Not to be left out, these Seniors were vital parts of the completion of this yearbook. Unfortunately, they ran their time on a different schedule and missed the formal Zephyrus group picture. They are, Jenny Osborne, Amy Scholerman, Eric Wagner, Somebody hiding in the back named Kathleen, and Nathan Schauerman.

The Heart's Anchor

Think of me as your friend, I pray, and call me by a loving name; I will not care what others say, if only you remain the same. I will not care how dark the night, I will not care how wild the storm, your love will fill my heart with light and shield me close and keep me warm.

*Think of me as your friend, I pray, for else
my life is little worth: so shall your memory light my way, all though we meet no more on earth. For while I know your faith secure, I ask no happier fate to see: thus to be loved by one so pure is honor rich enough for me.*

-William Winter

In fond remembrance of our friend and yearbook staff member.
